Raiders Clip Hounds In Baseball Windup

The Greyhounds were unable to derail the pennant-bound O'Rafferty Raiders in their final baseball game of the season here last Thursday. O'Rafferty won, 7-3, to share the Capital Circuit championship with Howell, which bumped Mason out of contention, 12-1.

The tight nature of the league race is shown by the fact that the co-champs finished with 9-5 records while Eaton Rapids, winning 5 and losing 9, shared last place with Okemos and Haslett.

The Greyhounds notched their second win of the season over Charlotte Wednesday afternoon, 13-12, giving them a 7-9 record over all. Bill Cataline, the fourth Eaton Rapids pitcher, got the win as each team racked up 11 hits in the slugfest.

Coach Phil Taylor announced Monday that pitcher-infielder John Seeley had been picked on the Capital Circuit all-star team and also named the Greyhounds' most valuable player.

This completed a remarkable sports career for the graduating senior. This year he has been named to the Circuit's all-star teams in football, basketball and baseball and, in each sport, has been voted the Greyhounds' most valuable player.

Seeley picked up three hits in his last two games, a home run and double against Charlotte and a single against O'Rafferty, to finish with a .488 batting average for the season. Other top Greyhound hitters were John Colestock at .288 and Craig Love with .271.

The Greyhounds, who won the Capital Circuit last year, were handcuffed by errors this season. They played only one errorless game and chalked up 82 miscues in the remaining 15.

"You can't win championships that way, but we're hoping to do better next season," Taylor said.

Board Hires New High School Principal; Kreager Resigns

The Board of Education hired a principal and lost an administrative assistant at a special meeting last Wednesday night.

William R. Creger, 36-year-old principal at Manistee High school, was granted a two-year contract as Eaton Rapids High school principal, effective July 1.

At the same time, the board accepted the resignation of Norman Kreager, administrative assistant to Supt. W. Carl Holbrook. He is taking a similar position in the Buchanan school system.

Kreager, who is leaving the local system June 30, [illegible] here 3 1/2 years ago as junior high principal and was made administrative assistant three years ago. The board recently extended him a new two-year contract at a raise from $12,000 to $13,500 a year.

The resignation sparked a discussion by the board on the future status of the position. Several members, pointing out that the major duties are supervision of the school bus system, hot lunch program and distribution of school supplies, said they didn't feel that a man with a master's degree in education is needed.

There was no immediate move to find a replacement and concensus of the board appeared to be that the position will be downgraded and new qualifications adopted before it is filled.

The board approved a two-year contract at $14,500 a year for William Creger as high school principal. He will succeed Dale Shearer, who resigned recently to take a teaching position in the Waverly schools. Shearer received $12,700 this year and had been offered a $13,500 contract for 1968-69.

The new principal is married and has six children ranging in age from about 6 to 12. He has been principal at Manistee for the past two years.

Prior to that he was principal at Vandercook Lake, superintendent of schools at Sutton's Bay, principal at Carsonville and head teacher at Afognak, Alaska, following military service in Alaska.

He has a bachelor's degree from Central Michigan university and a master's from Michigan State.

Commencement Thursday

Graduating Seniors Win Scholarships

One hundred sixty high school seniors, undaunted by week-long graduation activities and laden with honors and college scholarships for many of them, will march across the platform in the High School gym Thursday night to receive their diplomas from Dr. Albert Meinke, president of the Board of Education.

After commencement and the round of post-graduation parties, they will be honor guests of the Eaton Rapids Alumni association at its 81st annual banquet Friday night, also in the gymnasium.

Members of the Class of '68 will take with them some 44 scholarships and grants ranging up to thousands of dollars in value for four years of college study.

Graduating magna cum laude will be Kenneth A. Davison, Alice DeCamp, Paul H. Francis and Michael G. Nickerson. Cum laude diplomas will go to Bernadine Ann Bosier, Linda Lou Cushman, Barbara Gillett and William B. Minnich. Completing the top 10 academic group are Carol Mae Gephart and Jane Robinson.

Principal Dale Shearer listed the impressive number of scholarships announced at last week's Honor Assembly and other recent meetings. They include:

State Competitive Scholarships - Richard C. [illegible], James P. Beckham, Bernadine Bosier, [illegible] Bumgarner, Richard Bumgarner, Carol Ann Bush, Kenneth A. Davison, Alice DeCamp, Kathleen S. Fox, Paul Francis, Carol Gephart, Barbara Gillett, Richard A. Haskill, Martin Kapff, Dave Kirkpatrick, Rodney McLaughlin, William Minnich, Edward Mark Nash, Michael Nickerson, Nadine O. Thompson, James B. VanArk and Myron R. Wernette.

Martin Kapff also won the Vomberg Foundation scholarship, given annually to only one student in Eaton county, and an Olivet college scholarship.

Michigan State university scholarships - Alice DeCamp, Ken Davison, Mike Nickerson, Richard Bumgarner, Steve Straw (creative arts) and Dave Kirkpatrick (creative arts).

VFW Post scholarships - Shirley Wandel, Gary Harrison and Thelma Tucker.

4-H scholarship - Alice DeCamp.

Albion college tuition grants - Barbara Gillett, Carol Bush and Paul Francis.

Business Women's scholarships - Rhea McNamara and Carol Gephart.

Olivet college athletic scholarship - Max Williams.

Hillsdale college athletic scholarship - John Seeley.

U of M Regents Alumni scholarship - Mike Nickerson.

In addition, Shearer said, many more students will receive additional financial aid in the form of grants, loans and work-study programs to attend college.

The 93rd annual Eaton Rapids High school commencement begins at 8 p.m. Thursday. Supt. W. Carl Holbrook will open the proceedings with a welcoming address, followed by a short talk by Frauke Vick, exchange student from Germany.

Principal Shearer will introduce the top 10 students, with Alice DeCamp responding for that group. Shearer then will present the members of the graduating class to Dr. Meinke for award of their diplomas.

The Rev. Evan Downey, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness church, will deliver the invocation and benediction, and there will be music by the high school band and choir.

The Rev. John Francis, who is completing his tenure as pastor of the First Methodist church here, will be the Alumni Banquet speaker.

NOTES By ART CARSTENS

Even worse than being doused with ice water or kicked in the stomach is being awakened before 7 a.m. on a bright June morning with the clock radio at the head of the bed reporting an assassination attempt on another national figure.

The numbing impact is not alone grief and concern for Sen. Robert Kennedy but the hammer-blow shock in realizing that our nation has taken another step backward to the law of the jungle: If you don't like someone, shoot him. If you don't like something, destroy it.

The threat of assassination has always loomed over our national leaders. But three in less than five years — President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King and now Senator Kennedy. Where does it end?

[illegible] does the entire trend to defiance of the law end? Any would-be assassin must be considered demented until proved otherwise.

But are the students who took over Columbia university to be considered demented? Or the hippies who marched on Lansing's City Hall this week to protest the arrest of a dozen of their group found in possession of marijuana and LSD?

Aren't these all part and parcel of the same thing? The Age of Permissiveness? The last step before we do back to the jungle?

Meanwhile, what are our lawmakers doing?

Michigan's U. S. Senator Robert P. Griffin, hard at work down in Washington, sends out a two-page "news release" to report that he has just researched a very vital question: Will a person who has his body frozen in a state of suspended animation be entitled to Social Security benefits while he's iced away in the cooler?

"The Social Security administration advises that it will continue to pay benefits as long as competent medical advice shows the person to be alive," Griffin reports.

Better get with it, Senator. If you can't find anything more vital to occupy your time, the voters may ice you away with only your congressional pension [illegible].

Last week's five-day rain is still a live topic of discussion, but we really didn't have all that much.

The Michigan Crop Reporting Service says the Lansing weather station had 4.02 inches in the past four weeks, compared to normal June rainfall of 3.34 inches, and we're only a half-inch above normal since April 1.

Jerry Eitniear, who has his super-accurate rain guage located just north of town, recorded 3.8 inches during last week's rain. That's a lot of rain, and the height of the river here, overflowing the island wall for several days, bore him out.

If your fields are still too wet to work, it's probably little consolation to know that we're just a little above normal. Timing is all-important. The spigot is wide open one week and shut tight the next.

See you next week.

Big Barn Leveled

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large barn on the J. B. Wade farm, Waverly Rd. between Toles and Bunker, Friday afternoon.

The 36 x 60 basement barn was completely razed, with the loss estimated by Fire Chief Bill Oliver at $12,000, including $10,000 to the structure and $2,000 to contents. The barn contained a quantity of hay and equipment.

Oliver said the firemen found two horses, six steers and a number of pigs and rabbits huddled in a smoke-free corner of the basement. The animals were led, pushed and carried to safety.

The Wade children discovered the fire while playing in the barn and told their mother, who telephoned the alarm at 3:06 p.m.

Federal Plan Aid Granted

A federal grant of $6,541 for Eaton Rapids city planning has been approved in Washington, Sen. Philip A. Hart reported Tuesday in telegrams to the City and Eaton Rapids Journal.

The grant will be applied toward the $14,000 contract with the professional planning [illegible] The Eaton Rapids [illegible] commission to prepare a master [illegible].

Federal aid was first applied for two years ago, but government funds for planning were exhausted at that time. Application was made again last year and it is this application, apparently, which has received favorable federal action.

The City Council, in the meantime, had told the planners to go ahead with their work and the City would pay the entire cost if no federal funds were available. Parkins, Rogers in turn had offered the City a 10 per cent reduction in price if the paperwork needed for a federal grant was not required.

Senator Hart's telegram stated: "Eaton Rapids awarded $6,541 urban planning assistance grant for comprehensive planning for one year."

Operation 'Deprived' Gaining Momentum

King Street Elementary Principal Paul Letts, who has been scraping paint week ends since April to earn money for his project "Deprived Youth", is beginning to receive help — but he needs more, much more.

While attending a principals' conference in Houston, Texas, the first week in March, Letts conceived the idea of bringing two young Negro boys from a deprived Houston area to Michigan for three weeks.

With preliminaries out of the way, he began hunting for ways to earn money for air fare for the two boys, Larry Charles, 11, and Carleton Sylvester, 12.

One of the first to offer help was Miller Dairy Farms who gave Letts week end work, most of which happens to be scraping paint. Since then, children at King Street school have gathered $20 in their "pot"; Scout Troop 600 has put aside $9 and King Street Custodian Louie Thomas has pledged $50, (an amount greater than his weekly take-home pay), which he is turning over in the amount of $10 each pay period.

At first, Letts thought the boys would be allowed to fly at half fare, but since, he has been notified that such fares are allowed only when children are accompanied by an adult. So, unless he can contact a willing chaperone flying out of Houston July 14, the full air tab will amount to $329. "I'm going to contact the Houston Teachers' Association," he said, "to see if they can work out anything for me."

Meanwhile, several local people have offered to act as hosts for the boys before or after they attend Scout camp North Woods near West Branch.

Mrs. Roger Harder of Bunker Hwy. is planning an ice cream social in their honor; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Simmons of Raeburn Rd. will have the boys at their home July 19-20, and treat them to a visit to Greenfield Village near Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Masek have offered them accommodations at their summer place near Stonington, U.P., when Letts takes the boys on a trip to the Soo, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kreager, who are moving to Buchanan where he will be high school principal, have invited the boys to be their guests at Buchanan for a couple of days.

To prepare the boys for Michigan, Letts mailed them a copy of "Exploring Michigan".

Carleton and Larry will arrive July 14 and are scheduled for the return trip Aug. 4. Anyone wishing to help in any way is invited to call Paul Letts to make arrangements.

The accompanying letter from one of the boys gives a clue to the type of youngsters they are.

Houston, Texas
May 26, 1968

Dear Mr. Letts,

I received the letter and the book. Now I'm reading on the Machinac Bridge. I'm sorry for answering your letter so late because I've been busy helping the Cubs at the Scout Circus. In the letter you asked what kind of boy I am, things I like to do and eat. First of all I'm not a fighter, I'm Junior Superintendent of the Sunday School. I like all sports and I like all food except hominy and spinach. Mr. Letts what flight will we take? What shall we take and wear? Dress suit or uniform? And when will we leave? I will also have to pay an adult fair.

Yours truly,
Carlton

P.S. I made den chief.

Couple Cash Silver Certificates

SILVER "BONANZA" — It may not be from the famed Virginia City mine, but it's pure silver — over eight pounds of it. Joyce Curtis, holding the bar and "piece", is half-owner of the $240 bar, which came from the San Francisco Mint via [illegible] Silver Certificates. (Eaton Rapids Journal Photo)

When the U.S. Treasury Department announced the withdrawal of silver certificates from circulation with a redemption value of $1.30 on the dollar, Joyce Curtis and George Norton, both of Eaton Rapids, saw an interesting way to make some money.

At the time, Norton was the proprietor of the taxi service in Charlotte and began scanning all bills. His relief drivers joined in and turned in all silver certificates to their boss, making a profitable [illegible] of it.

School Election Monday

The quietest contested school board race in local history ends with Monday's annual school election.

If any of the three candidates for the two four-year terms to be filled have been doing any campaigning it hasn't been noticeable.

Incumbents seeking reelection are Edward B. McRee, [illegible]

NOTICE

Published notices that the voting place for the school election will be the Junior High school are incorrect. Voting will be done at the Administration Building at 501 King Street, as before, not at the Junior High.

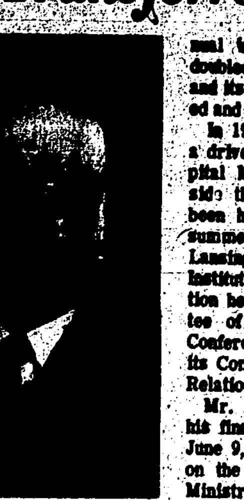
Methodist Pastor Is Transferred



REV. JOHN FRANCIS

The Rev. John L. Francis, pastor of First United Methodist church in Eaton Rapids since November, 1964, has been named senior minister of First United Methodist church in Hillsdale. The transfer was one of several announced Tuesday by Bishop Dwight E. Loder at the denomination's Michigan Annual Conference in Albion.

The Rev. Paul W. Schanzlin of Three Rivers will be the new Eaton Rapids minister. Both appointments take effect June 15.

During his 3 1/2 year pastorate, Mr. Francis has led the local church in a major building program including erection of its new 13-room educational building, construction of a new lounge, church narthex and parking facilities. The church's annual income has more than doubled in the last three years and its youth program expanded and enlarged.

In 1965 the local pastor led a drive for funds for the hospital Meditation Room. Outside the local parish he has been head of a Senior High summer camp and Dean of the Lansing District Mid-Winter Institute for youth. In addition he has served as a trustee of the Michigan Annual Conference and chairman of its Committee on Ministerial Relations.

Mr. Francis will conduct his final service this Sunday, June 9, at 11 a.m., speaking on the theme, "This Absurd Ministry". The pastor and his family will be honored at an open house on Tuesday, June 11, 7 to 9 p.m. in the church lounge. The public is invited to attend.

Rep. Dale Warner's CAPITOL REPORT

Last week saw deadline after deadline postponed by the Legislature as it became obvious that crucial legislative items required far more time for deliberation than had been anticipated.

NON-RESIDENT TAX

Tuesday, May 28, new legislative allies joined old foes of the non-resident city income tax. Senate Bill No. 1385, a proposal to permit Detroit to change its local income tax rates, almost became a vehicle for phasing out the power of a city to levy a one-half per cent tax on incomes of non-resident workers.

After a great deal of study, I have become convinced that the one-half per cent tax on non-resident incomes is a highly arbitrary imposition that does not succeed in measuring equitably the responsibility that accrues to a non-resident worker. Non-residents do receive benefits from the city where they work; non-residents also make substantial contributions to the community where they work, including payments of many taxes, purchases of goods and services sold in the city and political and charitable contributions given within the city.

Consequently, I supported moves to reform the Uniform City Income Tax Act, particularly efforts made to phase out the non-resident city income tax and replace that revenue-raising scheme with a more equitable plan for non-resident participation in community growth where they work.

PROPERTY TAX REFORM

Significant reform of the General Property Tax Act of 1893 was enacted last Wednesday with House approval of Senate Bill No. 1348.

Agri-business should be encouraged by this action because specific protections were included for all agricultural and farming operations against the narrow interpretations used by the State Tax Commission in real and personal farm property assessment guidelines.

The status of personal property owned by banks was also clarified. Farm implements held for sale by retail servicing dealers for use in agricultural production were exempted from the personal property tax on a par with implements already in use by a farmer. Many sixty and seventy year old inequities were corrected by this omnibus reform bill.

SAVE THE STATE CAPITOL

Consideration of Senate Bill No. 841 on Tuesday, May 21, offered the first opportunity to learn how each House member felt about preserving the historic and irreplaceable State Capitol building. The bill proposed a half-million dollar grant for "planning" a new capitol building. No reasons for such an expenditure were advanced in House debate and no open legislative deliberation has ever been held on planning procedures that have already consumed $200,000 in surveys and trips.

I joined 46 other House members in voting against the $500,000 proposed addition to planning funds which, however, was retained by a slim vote, with 49 voting to retain the appropriation item.

I then voted NO on final passage of Senate Bill No. 841 to emphasize my support for preserving the State Capitol. In my opinion, a proposal to build a new capitol is 30 years premature and funds spent on such plans are wasted.

INSURED MOTORISTS FEE

Senate Bill No. 457 on Wednesday, May 22, became the focus for efforts to remove the one dollar fee all insured drivers pay annually to the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund. I voted YES on the motion to do away with the one dollar fee. The House voted the motion down, however, by a vote of 38 for the deletion and 52 for keeping the insured motorist fee.

While small, the fee is unjust and unnecessary. Earlier in this legislative session, I introduced House Bill No. 3943 designed to remove this inequity in a responsible way, without affecting the fiscal soundness of the fund.

DAIRYMEN BALLOT ON MARKETING

Last week dairymen received ballots for the proposed Michigan Dairyman's Market program.

The actual time of balloting was delayed from mid-May to the last week of May to facilitate the mailing of ballots to all Grade A dairy producers.

According to J. D. Johnson, Eaton agricultural agent, all voting must be completed by June 11, all ballots to be postmarked not later than June 12.

If the referendum is passed, it will replace the current 2¢ voluntary program for Grade A producers on, or about, July 1, 1968.

Dairy farmers must vote in order to be counted in the referendum. This vote is not a "positive letter" type of election.

Since milk production or "base", is a consideration in tabulating the vote, it is necessary that the producer complete the blank concerning production on his ballot.

Extra ballots are available at the County Extension office in Charlotte. Acceptance or rejection of the proposed program may be a vital decision for the future of the dairy industry, according to Johnson.

WOLDUMAR FIELD DAY RESET JUNE 10

The Soil and Wildlife Field Day, first planned for May 27, has been postponed to Monday, June 10, according to Len Stuttman, director of Woldumar.

The program has been rescheduled for 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will include demonstration of plowing and fitting equipment by farm machinery dealers.

Contour and field strips have been laid out by Wendell Somers and Murray Stall of the Charlotte office of the Soil Conservation services.

Crops to be planted will include corn, sweetcorn, buckwheat, rape and soybeans, all of which will be used for improved wildlife habitat at Woldumar.

Woldumar is an outdoor laboratory for young people and adults interested in natural resources and their conservation. It is located in Delta township on old US 27-M78 near Millett about two miles southwest of Lansing. All land owners and others interested, including school children, are invited to attend. Luncheon facilities will be available on the grounds.

Trade Shows Sell Michigan Products

By ELMER E. WHITE

Food products, produced and processed in Michigan, should enjoy greater acceptance in world markets because of the growing number of trade shows. One show, held April 2-11 in Tokyo, Japan, produced immediate sales of over $1 million for American exports and untold future markets.

Called the "American Festival," the show was attended by two representatives from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The State displayed various food products including fruit juices, plums, apples, cherries, blueberries, turkey products, pudding and pie fillings.

No orders were taken but inquiries were forwarded to the state's commodity participants. Over 100 Japanese companies indicated a strong interest in Michigan's array of goods. Commodity participants pay a small fee, furnish products and pay transportation costs of getting the products to the show. In return, they are granted exclusive rights to inquiries from interested Japanese companies for a limited time. After a set period, the companies' names are made public to all American firms which request the list.

In 1967, $110 million in Michigan farm products were exported to world markets. An annual increase is expected each year because of trade shows and other programs by Michigan agencies and private enterprise. This fall, the MDA may send representatives to Munich, Germany, for another show. The success of past exhibits has proven the worth of such enterprise, the department says.

Three of America's billion-dollar industrial corporations and 16 of its 100-million-dollar businesses are headquartered in Michigan.

Rep. Dale Warner's CAPITOL REPORT

Last week saw deadline after deadline postponed by the Legislature as it became obvious that crucial legislative items required far more time for deliberation than had been anticipated.

NON-RESIDENT TAX

Tuesday, May 28, new legislative allies joined old foes of the non-resident city income tax, Senate Bill No. 1325, a proposal to permit Detroit to change its local income tax rates, almost became a vehicle for phasing out the power of a city to levy a one-half per cent tax on incomes of non-resident workers.

After a great deal of study, I have become convinced that the one-half per cent tax on non-resident incomes is a highly arbitrary imposition that does not succeed in measuring equitably the responsibility that accrues to a non-resident worker. Non-residents do receive benefits from the city where they work; non-residents also make substantial contributions to the community where they work, including payments of many taxes, purchases of goods and services sold in the city and political and charitable contributions given within the city.

Consequently, I supported moves to reform the Uniform City Income Tax Act, particularly efforts made to phase out the non-resident city income tax and replace that revenue-raising scheme with a more equitable plan for non-resident participation in community growth where they work.

PROPERTY TAX REFORM

Significant reform of the General Property Tax Act of 1893 was enacted last Wednesday with House approval of Senate Bill No. 1348.

Agri-business should be encouraged by this action because specific protections were included for all agricultural and farming operations against the narrow interpretations used by the State Tax Commission in real and personal farm property assessment guidelines.

The status of personal property owned by banks was also clarified. Farm implements held for sale by retail servicing dealers for use in agricultural production were exempted from the personal property tax on a par with implements already in use by a farmer. Many sixty and seventy year old inequities were corrected by this omnibus reform bill.

SAVE THE STATE CAPITOL

Consideration of Senate Bill No. 841 on Tuesday, May 21, offered the first opportunity to learn how each House member felt about preserving the historic and irreplaceable State Capitol building. The bill proposed a half-million dollar grant for "planning" a new capitol building. No reasons for such an expenditure were advanced in House debate and no open legislative deliberation has ever been held on planning procedures that have already consumed $200,000 in surveys and trips.

I joined 46 other House members in voting against the $500,000 proposed addition to planning funds which, however, was retained by a slim vote, with 49 voting to retain the appropriation item.

I then voted NO on final passage of Senate Bill No. 841 to emphasize my support for preserving the State Capitol. In my opinion, a proposal to build a new capitol is 30 years premature and funds spent on such plans are wasted.

INSURED MOTORISTS FEE

Senate Bill No. 457 on Wednesday, May 22, became the focus for efforts to remove the one dollar fee all insured drivers pay annually to the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund. I voted YES on the motion to do away with the one dollar fee. The House voted the motion down, however, by a vote of 38 for the deletion and 52 for keeping the insured motorist fee.

While small, the fee is unjust and unnecessary. Earlier in this legislative session, I introduced House Bill No. 3943 designed to remove this inequity in a responsible way, without affecting the fiscal soundness of the fund.

DAIRYMEN BALLOT ON MARKETING

Last week dairymen received ballots for the proposed Michigan Dairyman's Market program.

The actual time of balloting was delayed from mid-May to the last week of May to facilitate the mailing of ballots to all Grade A dairy producers.

According to J. D. Johnson, Eaton agricultural agent, all voting must be completed by June 11, all ballots to be postmarked not later than June 12.

If the referendum is passed, it will replace the current 2¢ voluntary program for Grade A producers on, or about, July 1, 1968.

Dairy farmers must vote in order to be counted in the referendum. This vote is not a "positive letter" type of election.

Since milk production or "base", is a consideration in tabulating the vote, it is necessary that the producer complete the blank concerning production on his ballot.

Extra ballots are available at the County Extension office in Charlotte. Acceptance or rejection of the proposed program may be a vital decision for the future of the dairy industry, according to Johnson.

WOLDUMAR FIELD DAY RESET JUNE 10

The Soil and Wildlife Field Day, first planned for May 27, has been postponed to Monday, June 10, according to Len Stuttman, director of Woldumar.

The program has been rescheduled for 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will include demonstration of plowing and fitting equipment by farm machinery dealers.

Contour and field strips have been laid out by Wendell Somers and Murray Stall of the Charlotte office of the Soil Conservation services.

Crops to be planted will include corn, sweetcorn, buckwheat, rape and soybeans, all of which will be used for improved wildlife habitat at Woldumar.

Woldumar is an outdoor laboratory for young people and adults interested in natural resources and their conservation. It is located in Delta township on old US 27-M78 near Millett about two miles southwest of Lansing. All land owners and others interested, including school children, are invited to attend. Luncheon facilities will be available on the grounds.

Trade Shows Sell Michigan Products

By ELMER E. WHITE

Food products, produced and processed in Michigan, could enjoy greater acceptance in world markets because of the growing number of trade shows. One show, held April [illegible] in Tokyo, Japan, produced immediate sales of over $1 million for American exports and untold future markets.

Called the "American Festival," the show was attended by two representatives from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The State displayed various food products including fruit juices, plums, apples, cherries, blueberries, turkey products, pudding and pie fillings.

No orders were taken but inquiries were forwarded to the state's commodity participants. Over 100 Japanese companies indicated a strong interest in Michigan's array of goods. Commodity participants pay a small fee, furnish products and pay transportation costs of getting the products to the show. In return, they are granted exclusive rights to inquiries from interested Japanese companies for a limited time. After a set period, the companies' names are made public to all American firms which request the list.

In 1967, $110 million in Michigan farm products were exported to world markets. An annual increase is expected each year because of trade shows and other programs by Michigan agencies and private enterprise. This fall, the MDA may send representatives to Munich, Germany, for another show. The success of past exhibits has proven the worth of such enterprise, the department says.

Three of America's billion-dollar industrial corporations and 16 of its 100-million-dollar businesses are headquartered in Michigan

PARTY TO MARK WHITING'S SILVER ANNIVERSARY

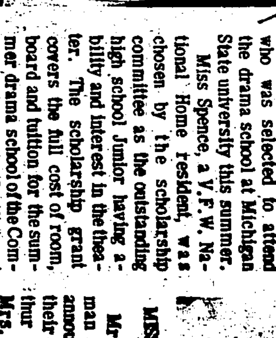
Friends and family will honor Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Whiting on their silver wedding anniversary with a party at the Conservation clubhouse Sunday, June 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiting, residents of 4462 Mills Hwy, were married June 5, 1943, and came to the Eaton Rapids area from Lansing about 23 years ago.

The couple have four children, Mrs. Elaine Vroman of Durand, Harold with the Army at Fort Knox, Ky., and Margaret and Wayne at home.

Hosts for the celebration will be Mrs. Vroman, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting from Haslett.

Bonnie Spence Wins Drama Scholarship



BONNIE SPENCE

At their final meeting of the current season, members of Eaton Rapids Little Theatre, Inc., presented their scholarship award to Bonnie Spence, a high school Junior, who was selected to attend the drama school at Michigan State university this summer.

Miss Spence, a V.F.W. National Home resident, was chosen by the scholarship committee as the outstanding high school Junior having ability and interest in the theater. The scholarship grant covers the full cost of room, board and tuition for the summer drama school of the Communication Arts Institute at MSU beginning June 17.

At the same meeting, the Little Theatre group approved a reduction in the cost of tickets to their performances for the coming 1968-69 season. Tickets for adults will be $1.50, students 75¢, and season tickets $4. The reduction was made possible by the new "open door" policy adopted by the Board of Education which allows use of school buildings for community functions without charge, except for special janitorial service.

Selection of plays for the coming season were as follows: A comedy, "See How They Run"; a drama, "Spiral Staircase"; and the final production, a musical, "In the Valley".

New officers and directors were elected at the meeting. George Straw, outgoing president, was elected to the board of directors; Barbara Burhans, vice president during the past year was elected president, with Flora Gillette stepping in as vice president, and Julia Byers as secretary. Sylvia Rae will be the new treasurer.

Directors elected for new three year terms are Richard Teets, Earle Miller, Bray Webster and Emma Winter.

At their May 30 meeting at the home of Ruth Ann Olney, members of the ORC club enjoyed seeing pictures of their "adopted son" service man in Vietnam and of the country where he is located. They were brought by Dolly Swaim.

The seven members and two visitors attending also had a surprise birthday party for the hostess, presenting her with several gifts.

The next meeting, a luncheon, is being held at River's Edge and will be the last until September.

'Dirty' Rain Increases

Ever notice how your car sometimes looks dirtier after it rains?

That's because rain carries dust and dirt particles when it falls, a University of Michigan meteorologist explains. And the more waste material we put into the air, the more polluted our rain will be.

Prof. A. Nelson Dingle of the department of meteorology and oceanography foresees "a real danger" if we continue to pour industrial wastes into the atmosphere.

Although we haven't had any more "mud rains," such as fell over the Dust Bowl in the 1930s, our rainfall in industrial areas is definitely getting dirtier, according to Dingle.

"There are already some areas, adjacent to ore-smelting plants, where the land has become so denuded and contaminated that nothing at all will grow."

Some kinds of pollution, besides contaminating the air, have been known to produce addiction in those who breathe it, Dingle says.

A situation was discovered a number of years ago involving students at a large university. Several months after the school term began, a number of students reported to the college's health service complaining of headaches, loss of appetite, and debilitated feeling. The doctors found that these students were all from the same area, near a large smelting plant. Over the years they had become addicted to arsenic in the air there. When they got to the clean air of the university town, these students actually began suffering withdrawal symptoms and had to be given regular doses of arsenic to recover.

Another dramatic effect of increased pollution may be increased rainfall. Although Dingle describes this as "a possibility we're still investigating."

CARD OF THANKS

There aren't enough words for me to describe the warm feeling [illegible] all. Our own private world has become so dark since March, but somehow, knowing that so many people are thinking of us does help and especially so since we haven't lived in Eaton Rapids for so long. We both want to thank everyone for remembering us.

Not too many outdoor picnics on Memorial Day. Many grandchildren visited the farm folk. Lots of community people attended the parade in town. Many griped about the weather, others were thankful for the rain.

Sunday, Clarks and Winifred Brown called on Gladys Walworth at Community hospital. Also on Mrs. Adah Watkins at Story Book Acres.

Our callers Sunday were Wilma Treadway, Dean Croyle, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Murphy and Jimmy and Hazel Wood.

The Roseburys spent the week end with their children.

"Tell it to the Marines" is an expression older than the United States. British sailors thought that their Marines were capable of swallowing any yarn and often warned a story teller that the Marines might believe him but the sailors wouldn't.

STUDENTS HOLD 'DRAPERY PARTY'

King Street Elementary students enjoyed a party in their school library last week, celebrating the purchase and hanging of new library draperies. The children earned the money for the draperies by selling napkins before Christmas.

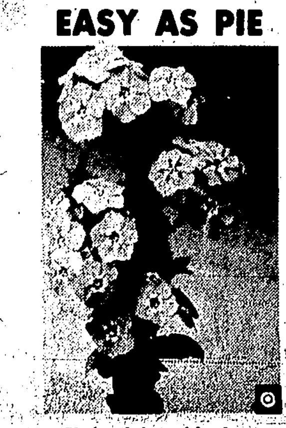
Tammy Elston, a third grader, was awarded a "Golden Hours Library" for being the best salesman.

Before the draperies were made, samples were brought to the school and pupils and teachers voted on the pattern, choosing one called "Liberty".

Teachers and personnel assisting in the project were teachers Sally Emmer, Elna Masek, Grace Winslow and Eva McKim; Librarian Elly Baker, Principal Paul Letts and the custodian, Darwin Palmer, who mounted the rods.

For the party, each teacher brought cookies for her room and punch was furnished by the school.

EASY AS PIE



These dainty blooms are those of annual phlox, so easy to grow, so delightful.

While almost all annual flowers are easy to grow, none is easier than annual phlox.

These dainty flowers may be grown well or poorly, but they'll flower and please you either way.

The best way to grow them for the largest plants and flowers is to select a warm, sunny place, prepare the soil as you do for other annuals, plant the seeds and thin the resulting seedlings to stand 1 foot apart.

Then you'll have a wealth of flowers until frost — and such delightful flowers of white, primrose yellow, various shades of pink and rose as well as crimson and scarlet.

Each floret in a cluster has a contrasting eye color, which adds great interest.

The stems of bloom keep very well in water and are so easy to arrange that you'll enjoy using them indoors.

Since the flower buds form at the tips of the stems, the way to keep annual phlox blooming all summer is to snip off the spent flowers.

Add a bit of fertilizer, but even if you don't new shoots will grow to provide a succession of bloom.

In addition to mixed colors, there are seeds of named varieties available, each one a separate color. By buying these you can color scheme the garden as you wish.

Summer Recreation To Begin June 17

The summer recreation program sponsored by the Community Activities Council will start on Monday, June 17, and run for eight weeks, Floyd Schwab, program director, announced.

As in past years, there will be morning playground sessions for the younger children, three boys' baseball leagues and twice-weekly swimming sessions at Pine lake, near Olivet.

The playground sessions will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. daily, Monday through Friday at the King Street school playground. Mrs. Pauline DeWaters will be the supervisor, assisted by Val McKim.

Baseball practice will be held daily, starting June 17, with the PeeWees working out from 9 to 10 a.m., Little Leaguers from 10 to 11, and Junior Leaguers from 11 to 12.

Baseball games will start June 24, Schwab said there will be about 20 teams in the three leagues.

Swimming trips also will start the week of June 24, being scheduled twice a week on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Schwab's assistants in the baseball program will be Bill Cataline and Mike Higgins.

Golfers Take 2nd In League

The Eaton Rapids High golf team finished its season with a Capital Circuit record of 9 wins and 5 losses in dual meets to place second in the league behind Mason, Coach Gene Emmer reported.

The second-place finish is the best ever by a Greyhound golf team.

In addition, Capt. Rod McLaughlin tied for second medalist honors in the regional meet, competing against 100 other golfers from Class B schools.

McLaughlin won his fourth golf letter this year, while Steve Miller, Jon Doyle, Jim VanArk and Paul Francis won their third, and Pat Pfaff his second.

In contrast to this year's veteran team, Miller will be the only "regular" returning for the 1969 season, Emmer said.

Private landowners, boards of education, and the Michigan Department of Conservation have become partners in the Conservation Education Reserve. The "Reserve" makes private land available by agreement as an outdoor laboratory for school.

Tennis Club Organizing

An Eaton Rapids tennis club is being organized for youth and adults, both men and women, by a pair of high school students. Tom Straw and Doug Barningham have already signed up 20 prospective members.

Plans are to hold tournaments on the downtown courts, probably three during the summer, with matches for students, men, women, and mixed singles and doubles.

A small fee will be charged participants to pay for awards and balls.

Anyone interested is asked to contact Straw at 663-6671, or Barningham at 663-3621.

DETROIT B.B.B. HEAD SPEAKS TO ROTARY

C. Lane Breidenstein, general manager of the Better Business Bureau of Detroit, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Eaton Rapids Rotary club June 12.

Breidenstein is nationally known in the affairs of Better Business Bureaus and has served in a number of posts of the Association of Better Business Bureaus, International.

MINORS CAUGHT WITH BEER GO TO COOLER

A burned-out license plate light on their car proved the undoing of three youths here on May 28.

Sheriff's Sgt. Gene Hoag stopped the car for the defective light and found that the three occupants had a case of beer which they were drinking. All three were charged with minor in possession of alcoholic beverage and pleaded guilty in justice court.

Neil Lessard, 17, and James R. Wood, 20, both of 7962 Spicerville Hwy., were ordered to pay fines and costs of $60.75 and $49.75, respectively, or serve 10 days in jail. Both, Hoag said, chose to go to jail.

Paul V. Norris, 18, of 507 Pearl St., Charlotte, paid a fine and costs of $39.50.

Hoag reported that the Sheriff's Patrol also made 16 traffic arrests here during the past week.

Food Stamp Program Beginning on July 1

The Food Stamp Program begins July 1 in Eaton county and will be explained to food merchants of Eaton county in a meeting June 10 at 8 p.m. in the basement of the county jail in Charlotte.

The briefing will be conducted by Allan Nickels, officer-in-charge of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Consumer Food Programs field office in Lansing.

The Food Stamp Program is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Eaton county Department of Social Services.

Authorization of retail food merchants is being handled by the USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service at 900 West Ottawa, Lansing, while certification of eligible families is handled by the Eaton county Department of Social Services at 117 West Harris, Charlotte.

The Food Stamp Program represents another means of using America's agricultural abundance to improve the diets of low-income citizens by increasing their food purchasing power.

It works like this: The Eaton County Department of Social Services determines the eligibility of the family and tells them the amount they will need to invest in the program, an amount that generally depends on the family size and income. Eligible persons pay that amount in cash for food coupons, and receive free enough additional coupons to enable them to buy substantially increased food supplies.

Recipients spend their coupons just as they would money in any authorized retail food store. They can buy any food for human consumption they choose, except for foods plainly identified as being imported. Since this is a food program, non-food items such as alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, soaps, pet food, vegetable seeds and the like cannot be purchased with Food Stamp Coupons.

Grocers redeem the coupons at local banks or through authorized food wholesalers. Banks redeem them through the Federal Reserve System.

Surveys have been conducted to determine the effectiveness of the Food Stamp Program first introduced in May, 1961.

These findings show that food sales, in dollars, increased an average of 8 per cent. Meats, produce and other grocery items shared in the increase as did both large and small stores.

All grocers are urged to attend this meeting, in order to be authorized prior to the opening of the Food Stamp Program in Eaton county.

Michigan Highway Deaths Ahead of 1967 Figure

Elmer E. White

TREND REVERSED

The impressive record set last year by Michigan motorists is likely to be buried in a new high of traffic fatalities for 1968, Col. Frederick E. Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, notes that traffic deaths are already running well ahead of last year, 677 killed on highways as compared to the 1967 figure of 617. Holidays, which contribute the largest number of fatalities, have yet to be accounted for. In 1967, the five holidays of Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Christmas and New Years added 182 deaths to the grim statistics.

Police and safety organizations are understandably alarmed. Col. Davids points out that there has been an increase in the number of multiple fatalities in lower age brackets; several cases of drivers going the wrong way on freeways and other evidence of driver irresponsibility. "The driver must learn that once he gets behind the wheel, he alone is responsible for his own safety, for his passengers and others who share the highway," he said.

Progress recorded in 1967 makes this year's statistics more alarming. For the first time in three years, 1967 showed a decline in highway fatalities. A total of 2,123 traffic deaths were recorded, just one more than in 1964. This, despite an increase in the number of registered vehicles, licensed drivers and average number of vehicle miles traveled per year.

It was hoped that this trend could be continued. But the 1967 statistics still represented an appalling average of 5.8 persons killed on Michigan highways each day of the year.

About two-thirds of the traffic deaths occurred in rural areas, and slightly more than half came at night. Violations, in order of frequency, were speeding, failure to yield, driving left of center, drunk driving, ignoring stop signs, and disregarding signals.

Other facts on the 1967 traffic toll:

For each person killed, 71 were injured.

The economic loss in traffic accidents amounted to the estimated cost of four Mackinac Bridges.

Of drivers involved in fatal accidents who were tested, 30.18 per cent had alcohol in their blood.

One of every 3,862 persons in Michigan was killed in a traffic accident in 1967; one of every 542 was injured; one of every 7.9 cars and one of every 9.5 drivers was involved in an accident.

For each pedestrian killed, 16 were injured.

"Recovery from this year's poor start is still possible, according to Capt. Don Downer of the State Police Safety and Traffic Division. "With some good luck the rest of the year, and careful driving by motorists, we still could... have a fatality score close to last year," he said.

Highway engineers, working with state police and other agencies, seek out high-accident locations on the state highway system. The danger spots, most often intersections, are then redesigned. Other programs are being implemented to reverse the trend of mounting traffic fatalities.

But responsibility ultimately falls on each individual driver, Davids says. A motorist, in order to survive on modern highways, must concentrate on defensive driving, he emphasized.

Michigan is the automotive capital of the world.
