Election Over

Republicans Elect W. N. Ferris Probably not half the registered voters turned out for the election last Tuesday, and the result was that the Bakers turned in and helped the Democrats put Ex-governor Wood-bridge N. Ferris across over Senator Charles E. Townsend by a majority of something like 20,000.

Armistice Day

Mrs. Mabel Blackett is promoting another music week program to begin Sunday evening, November 13, and continuing till the following Sunday along the same lines as that of last year, which was so successful and so joyfully enjoyed by our people. Thomas-Bradford

Miss Gladys Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford of Hamlin, and Jack Thomas of this city, were united in marriage last Sunday evening at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. L. B. Hardy.

Car Burned

The fire company was called out just before the dinner hour Thursday, by the burning of Gary Brothers' automobile which had been driven in from the city, over a half hour previously, and placed in their barn at the rear of their store.

Another Victory

The local high school football team won another well-earned victory on the home gridiron last Saturday when it defeated the first Clinton high school team by a score of 13 to 12; but the score in no way indicated the superiority of the Eaton Rapids players as the visitors made both touchdowns on "flukes" and at no time threatened our goal by straight rules of the game.

Another Exhibit

Our apple show was such a monumental success that we have arranged to put on an exhibit of the products of the local woolen mills, starting with the raw materials and following the process through to the finished article.

Few residents of this vicinity have any conception of the importance of the woolen mills to the community nor of the products manufactured right here in Eaton Rapids.

The show will open next week, and everyone is invited to attend. No one visited our apple show and went away without being inspired and proud of the enterprising farmers in our midst; neither will any be disappointed with our woolen mills exhibit.

Ten Per Cent Off

I have undertaken the big job of building a new salesroom and need ready money. I am also cramped for room during my building operations. With these two excellent reasons it is not surprising that I am willing to sacrifice ten per cent on any thing in the store that is marked $10.00 or over, for the next ten days. This means for spot cash only. Here is a splendid opportunity for any farmer to make a neat saving on dependable goods that are usually wanted and sometimes an absolute necessity. Money talks, and first come will be first served.

Administration

Depts. of Education, Public Library, Bonds and Public Unemployment at West Place Promoted Budget Established Prosperity Revived.

JOHN W. ADAMS, CHAIRMAN, REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Sixteen months ago the Republican Party took over the management of the largest business concern in the world. It found the organization of this concern utterly demoralized as a result of eight years of riotous waste, gross mismanagement and class legislation. There was a bonded indebtedness of $23,297,000,000. Government bonds were selling at 35 cents on the dollar. There were outstanding loans to foreign countries of $11,000,000,000, for which there was no written evidence of indebtedness, much less any business or legal agreement as to how and when the loans and interest were to be paid. The discount rate at Federal Reserve Banks was 7.5 per cent for gilt edge loans. Five million wage earners were in idleness. Farmers faced bankruptcy. Hard times prevailed. Business lived from hand to mouth. Everything needed readjustment and reconstruction. Such, in a broad way, were the conditions prevailing when this administration took control of the country and the present Republican Congress was called into special session.

Today we have a President whose wise, businesslike, constructive policies have won the confidence and affection of the American people. He has surrounded himself with a cabinet composed of good endowed with common sense, especially qualified for the work of their departments and devoted to the promotion of public welfare. As soon as the administration assumed control it called into special session the Republican Congress to assist it in straightening out the situation. Since then the executive and the legislative branches of the government, both under Republican control, have worked together. As a result of their joint effort there has been within the last 16 months a marvelous transformation. The bonded indebtedness has been reduced by $1,014,000,000. Today every issue of Liberty and Victory Bonds is selling at par or above, representing an increase of $2,000,000,000 in the value of government securities in 16 months. A refunding commission has been created for the purpose of getting foreign loans on a commercial basis. The interest rate at Federal Reserve Banks are not going to stop the magnificent work so well begun. They are not going to retreat to the conditions which prevailed prior to March, 1921. They are not going to return the Democratic party to power and thereby restore the evil conditions which have been so largely corrected in the past 16 months of Republican control of the executive and legislative branches of the government.

To those voting on slips for Jasper T. Doly for sheriff, place the slip in the column of your ticket. If you mark at the head of the Democratic ticket, place the slip in the column of your party ticket. For example if you mark at the head of the Republican ticket place the slip over the name of Mr. Dilley; or if you mark at the head of the Democratic ticket, place the slip in the column of your party ticket.

Cooperation the Master Key. There is no such thing as perpetual motion. The wheel cannot revolve because power is constantly applied to it. Business also moves only when there is enterprise and push behind it. Cooperation is the key to national prosperity.

Human Beings 10,000 Years From Now According to one scientist, our arms and legs will gradually disappear from our bodies, though he estimates this actually is not occurring for at least 10,000 years. Meanwhile, we do not have to worry.

To our Many Friends: In leaving the amusement field in Eaton Rapids, we are taking this opportunity of thanking our many friends for their kind patronage. We also wish to say our seven years in business here have been very pleasant and whether we decide to stay among your midst, or leave for foreign lands, the memory of those seven pleasant years and our many friends will always remain with us.

We are sure you will learn to like and respect our successors. In transferring our business to the Monte Bros., we feel we are leaving the amusement future of our little city in very capable hands and ask that they be used as kindly as we have been.

Sincerely, Earl M. and Cleo Whitehead Owners Capitol Theatre

Announcement
 Garment Will Help Out Milady's Wardrobe; Suitable for Women With Slender Lines.
 The jacket blouse is new and something that is going to be welcomed by a lot of women as a means of helping out their wardrobe. The idea started in Paris, where all through the spring and summer they were worn with skirts and waists in different colors. This is a fashion which should be adopted by women with long, slender lines, because on any more robust figures it is quite an unhappy thing to break the line of waist and skirt. However, there are many tall, thin figures in the world and they will look lovely in the jacket blouse.
 It is really a blouse with a long waistline and a light, rather wide band about the hips. It is made with a low, rolled collar or with a high one that buttons under the chin, and its material is some heavy cotton fabric suitable for the street with a covering cut, that makes it a sort of coat in itself—hence its name, the jacket blouse. The favorite material for this kind of blouse is a fabric called serge. It has a rather thick, almost quilted, silk surface and over all an embroidered design.
 These outer blouses are often worn with plaid skirts of black, white or ecru, and they are desirable, too, with the lighter weight woven materials. They will naturally grow more in favor as the cooler days approach, for they are essentially the thing to wear before one needs to don a top coat of any great warmth or weight. They are not their sweetest when worn by themselves brightly colored. There is one sort in black and white, which is very effective. The "embroidery" done in black on a white ground. There is another done in dull tones of red, blue or green on a black background. The red ones are extremely good looking and there are others which will thrill those who naturally like to wear costume of this sort.

Stock Show

With advance entries indicating that the largest International Live Stock Exposition will be held at Chicago from December 2 to 9 since the management has found it necessary to adopt several innovations for the twenty-third anniversary exhibition. Chief among these is a press service bureau where the results of the simultaneous judging at various points on the grounds will be immediately available in bulletin form. Information will also be posted at this central office concerning the location and time of the various events and meetings on the extensive program and every effort will be made to put the visitor in touch with the particular phase of the mammoth show in which he is most interested. An historic exhibit of pictures of winners and statistics of the 20 preceding "Internationals" is also being arranged so that the progress can be easily traced. This is expected to serve as a nucleus for a proposed Hall of Fame to be opened when the quarter century anniversary is celebrated in 1924.

The coming International will be in reality a combination of expositions, each of large enough proportions to justify separate consideration, but all joined together under a single management and offered to the public in the most comprehensive agricultural review ever staged in history.

Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Irene Colson was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by her sister, Mrs. Lewis Henry at her home on South Main street last Thursday evening, which was charmingly decorated with cut flowers, potted plants and autumn leaves, the color scheme being white and yellow. Progressive games and light refreshments furnished entertainment during the evening and the pleasures lasted till a late hour when the guests departed leaving many useful and beautiful mementoes of the function.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Towns, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barr, Lewis Beals, Miss Nellie Henry, Mrs. Ellen Payne, William Colson and Erwin Whitman.

Norma Talmadge Scores Best Work on the Screen

It may sound rather routine to say that Norma Talmadge has scored another screen success in her latest starring vehicle, "Smilin' Through," the First National attraction which begins an engagement at the Capitol Theatre Sunday, matinee 3:00 P. M. And so we must go a little further and say that "Smilin' Through" is positively the best thing that Norma has yet done for the silent drama. More than that, it is a magnificent dramatic production in every respect. It is a new classic of the screen.

Norma is superb in the dual role which she plays in her thoroughly capable manner. She portrays herself a great tragedienne as well as a national actress in the person of a young man who is killed by a jealous lover on his wedding day. She is charming, alluring, adorable as Kathleen, the little niece of Monte.

The story revolves itself around the romance of Kathleen and young Kenneth Wayne, son of the stayer of Montego, and the embittered life of John Carteret, who was deprived of his beautiful bride at the altar. Wyndham Standing, as John Carteret, and Harrison Ford, as Kenneth Wayne and Jeremiah Wayne, give magnificent support to Miss Talmadge. The remainder of the cast, including Alec B. Francis, Brian Hunter, Grace Griswold, Miriam Batista and Eugene Lockhart, also do fine work.

Much credit, of course, is due to the efforts of Sidney Franklin, whose skillful direction is apparent throughout the screening of "Smilin' Through."

For the purpose of protecting the people in all their rights so dearly bought, and so solemnly vested in the third article of the Constitution, the United States Supreme court, and vested it with judicial power over all cases arising under the Constitution. It is that court which has stood as the guardian and protector of our form of government, the guaranty of the perpetuity of the Constitution, and above all the great champion of the freedom and the liberty of the people. No other known tribunal has ever been devised in which the people could put their faith and confidence, to which they could intrust their choicest treasure, with a like assurance that there it would be secure and safe. There is no power, no influence, great enough to sway its judgments.

One of the proposals for enlarging the present field of legislation has been to give the congress authority to make void a proposed law which the Supreme court has declared was outside the authority granted by the people by the simple device of re-enacting it. Such a provision would make the congress finally supreme. In the last resort its powers practically would be unlimited.

This would be to do away with the great main principle of our written Constitution, which regards the people as sovereign and the government as their agent, and would tend to make the legislative body sovereign and the people its subjects. It would to an extent substitute for the will of the people, definitely and permanently expressed in their written Constitution, the changing and uncertain will of the congress. That would radically alter our form of government and take from it its chief guaranty of freedom.

To Discourage the Presentation of Objectionable Pictures on the Screen

By JOHN A. QUINN, President Better Pictures Ass'n.

These are the purposes of the Better Pictures Association of the World:

- To discourage the production and presentation of objectionable motion pictures.
- To offer constructive suggestions and criticisms making for greater popular approval and support.
- To work for the elimination of misleading and untruthful advertising.
- To strive for betterment generally in the art of making motion pictures, and for this purpose to maintain various departments of service, research, statistics and information.
- To safeguard the screen from unreasonable regulations and restrictions.
- To back up worthy productions through pulpit, press, schools and special bulletins sent out by the BPA and its various affiliated organizations.
- To award the BPA Merit Seal—a mark of excellence that can always be depended upon—to productions of unusual merit.
- To encourage and help through a service department of experts the production and presentation of motion pictures which the whole family will enjoy.
- To prevent as far as possible unfair criticism and propaganda from being circulated against the motion picture art and profession.

Best and Most Prosperous Days, Agriculturally, Are Now Passing

By LUTHER BURBANK, American Agriculturist.

Many of us now living in the United States will go hungry in the next fifty years unless inventions to increase the productivity of the soil are marketed. The maximum production of foodstuffs per acre has been reached. The greatest number of people who can be supported on an acre of land is about five. If all want food luxuries, only about two can be supplied.

The United States is beginning to be over-populated in a measure, I believe. The best and most prosperous days, agriculturally, are passing. When they are gone we will never see them again.

We must begin to live more economically. The average person very shortly will be obliged to give up all food luxuries just as the Chinese and other inhabitants of densely populated countries do.

I do not believe that any of the so-called intensive cultivators of land will bring in better yields. Agriculture today has about reached the stage where it is impossible to get greater returns from the soil. Modern methods of agriculture secure for the average farmer today all that the ground has to offer.

Lovesickness May Be Described as the Universal Disease of Man

By M. ANDRE TRIDON, Psychoanalyst.

Lovesickness may be described as the universal disease from which every man or woman suffers at least once—usually more than once. Being in love is an obsession with perfectly definite and discoverable physical and mental reactions.

Lovesickness in its second stage—when love is gratified—is the most glorious form of health. The individual's organism is working on a 100 per cent basis, and under the influence of that stimulation can accomplish tasks which under any other circumstances would appear too difficult. Love's stimulation is incomparably more powerful than that of any other craving.

I believe that if man and woman could fall in love every year they would find the secret of eternal youth.

Supposing a young man is in love with a girl he cannot marry. He must fall in love with a girl he can marry. If he adores the boss' daughter and she is destined for a European court, let him find some other young woman with red hair, or dimples, or a beautiful throat, or the physical fetish, whatever it may be, which was the real inspiration of his love. He will find it easy to transfer his affections to this second young woman. In love there is always a substitute just as good.

With football season here, the high school and college girl demands a swagger, deep-lined, manlike Coat, one with roomy breast pockets, a collar that buttons closely. In other words—a coat just like her brother's.

THE FALL SKIRTS

Long and Short Effect Combined in Latest Garment.

Two-Material Outfits Promise to Be in Limelight; Contrast to Develop the Trimming.

Out of the mixture of the newer fashions that are being presented to the public as advance models, say a fashion authority in the New York Times, we glean the following lessons which are pertinent to the development of the fall fashions and which will be more than useful to any one who has to have her clothes designed at the present time.

Long skirts there will be beyond the shadow of any doubt, but they can have interesting short spaces incorporated in their making so that at one point they will be quite short while at exactly the opposite points they will be fairly be trailing on the ground.

Many of the fall dresses will be made up on a combination of two materials, say, velvet and silk, or wool and wool or silk and silk and fur fabric, or velvet and real fur. When this is the case there will be little or no extraneous trimming and the contrast of the two fabrics will be used to develop the trimming interest of the gown.

Waistlines will be long—well over the hips—and they will at that point be adorned with trimmings of beads or twisted ribbons or velvets made into rolls or any other such material which happens to harmonize with the general interests of the gown itself.

The neckline will, in all cases, be as plain as possible, the bateau line being the one which is most favored from among them all. At this point there will be absolutely no trimming but the line of the gown left entirely for the costume of that point.

Sleeves will be wide and long. They will be embroidered heavily and often the embroidery applied at this point will be the only sign of trimming at that direction. There will be the whole plain gown which is embroidered in many startling and vivid colors over the sleeve ends and which will have the real of its surface nothing but a plain color and a chaste line to make it famous.

Direct and styles will be very much a feature of the modern gown. They will be colorful in themselves and even when the gown itself is sombre in its expression, the direct will serve to add some hint of a vivacious impression.
