Accidents in which two teachers were injured when they slipped and fell in the wet corridors further complicated the usual turmoil of school opening here Wednesday morning.

Both accidents happened between 8:15 and 8:30 a.m., just as teachers and administrators were enrolling what is certain to be a record number of pupils.

The victims were Mrs. Grace Winslow, third grade teacher, and Mrs. Elna Mattson, elementary special education teacher. Both were taken by Pettit's ambulance to Community Hospital. Mrs. Winslow has a severely wrenched hip, but no fracture, and Mrs. Mattson a possible slight concussion from striking her head on the floor.

Rain water tracked in by the students on the newly-polished corridor floors was blamed for the accidents.

Mrs. Winslow had been in the superintendent's office in the high school building to get some change. She slipped and fell just as she stepped out of the office.

As soon as she was on the way to the hospital, Supt. M. J. Beiser asked Mrs. Mattson to go over and take charge of Mrs. Winslow's third grade room. Just as Mrs. Mattson entered the elementary building, she also slipped and fell.

Principals Richard Fransted and Paul Letts estimated that total enrollment will exceed 2,400, compared to 2,069 at this time last year. Part of the increase is due to annexation of several rural schools, but much of it is from a general increase in enrollment in all grades.

Fransted estimated that there

ASC Votes to Be Cast by Mail

The election of community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee members in Eaton county will be conducted by mail ballot this year, according to an announcement this week by Lyle C. Bell, chairman of the county ASC committee.

The period for voting in the township elections will be from August 29 through Sept. 11. The county convention to elect the county ASC committee will be held on Sept. 30 in Charlotte.

The farmers in each community will elect a committee consisting of a chairman, vice-chairman, regular member, first and second alternates.

The community committee chairman will also be the community delegate to the county convention. A county ASC committee consisting of a chairman, vice chairman, a regular member and two alternates will be elected at the county convention.

Voting for community committees will be done by mail, the same as in recent years, with the county ASC office sending a secret ballot and return envelope to every eligible voter on its records.

The Federal government's agriculture conservation program, soil bank, price support and sugar program are administered by the county and community ASC committees. Members of these committees are elected for one-year terms beginning Oct. 1.

Local 4-H Entries Win MSU Awards

Dale Warner, local 4-H enthusiast, will be leaving Aug. 14 on a trip to Washington D. C., his award for placing first in the recent State 4-H show at MSU. Dale won first place in the Fowler Garden class. His entry was propagation of shrubs using greenwood cuttings.

Two members of the Kingland Variety 4-H club won ribbons at the MSU show. Grace Miller received a blue award for a bookcase she made and finished which she entered in the Home Improvement class. Paul Miller won a red award for his Vegetable Garden basket and a white award for his Entomology entry, a bug collection.

Notes and Anecdotes

We haven't seen sputnik but doubt that even it could dwarf the grandeur of the show put on over town Tuesday evening by a number of high-flying jets. Perhaps you saw them, too.

One jet, flying from west to east, appeared to be making successive practice "intercepts" on three others, spaced several miles apart, coming down from the north. The setting sun etched their vapor trails across a cloudless blue sky, and it was a sight to behold.

"Like a giant tic-tac-toe game," one observer commented. If it had been the real thing there would have been aerial dogfights 40,000 feet overhead. As it was, it provided a completely unexpected and seldom-seen demonstration of our nation's readiness.

The State Fair hasn't changed much in 40 years, I'm happy to report. And the changes, if any, appear to be for the better.

The crowd Monday afternoon seemed immense. It gives one a strange sensation to see so many hundreds of unfamiliar faces after living in a small town where you recognize almost everyone you meet.

Surprisingly, to us, the crowds in the animal barns and agricultural buildings were as big if not bigger than those on the midway and around the commercial displays. Basically, it's still an agricultural fair, and the animals certainly have the best, most spacious facilities on the grounds.

Every stall seemed to be filled, too, so there's no slackening of interest on the part of exhibitors. The agriculture building, with its gigantic, colorful displays of fruit and vegetables, is the showpiece of the whole fair. There are enough apples, alone, on display there to keep the whole city of Eaton Rapids healthy for a year.

Evidence, too, that the Michigan apple growers are learning to glamorize their product just as the people out in Washington and Oregon did years ago. Some of the apple packing and shipping cartons on display would do justice to the crown jewels of Europe.

It was in the agriculture building, too, that we saw our first familiar face — in a bigger-than-life photo of Herb VanAken displayed in the Michigan Farmer magazine booth.

Also there that we found the Eaton County Maple Sugar association booth cheek to jowl with the Vermontville ditto. Both seemed to be doing a good business in tasty Eaton county maple products.

While cattle raising and fruit growing are flourishing, the ladies' interest in the art of fancy handiwork seems to be dying. At least, the fair managers must think so.

Years ago, the handiwork exhibits had a whole big building to themselves. This year they are crowded way off to one side on one small floor of the racetrack clubhouse, and sharing that small space with an art exhibit. The fancy quilts, hooked rugs, needlepoint and crochet work seem just as beautiful as ever (at least to

Kiwanis Hears Boys' Stater

Don Shirley, this year's Kiwanis club delegate to Wolverine Boys' State at East Lansing, told the club of his experiences at Tuesday noon's luncheon meeting.

Don was the only delegate to Boys' State from Eaton Rapids. "I wish there had been more," he said, pointing out that Mason sent five boys.

He related that Wynell Williams, a Negro youth from Detroit, had been elected governor of Boys' State "by a landslide." "He was really a good guy, and there was absolutely no racial discrimination," Don added.

The young speaker explained apologetically that he had won no office higher than city councilman "because I had a bad spell on my hand and had to spend a lot of time in the MSU infirmary when I could have been campaigning."

Despite the physical handicap, Shirley played on the softball team that won the "State" championship.

He is president of the High School Student council and vice-president of the Kiwanis-sponsored Key club this year. Ernie Miller introduced the speaker.

This inexpert observer but it seems that the widespread interest in such things just isn't there any more.

The midway has the same two-headed baby and six-legged calf that it had 40 years ago. The rides are bigger and scarier than ever, and you can still buy an endless number of gadgets to rattle, ravel, scallop or tear a vegetable to pieces in a thousand different ways. It's quite a fair and with the new expressways around Detroit it isn't nearly as far away as it used to be.

See you next week. — Art Carstens

175 Attend 'Senior Citizens' Island Picnic

About 175 oldsters turned out for the senior citizens' picnic on the Island Labor Day, in spite of the overcast skies and chilly wind.

Besides good fellowship and good eating, they enjoyed a variety of singing and instrumental music. The only disappointment was the fact that the Serrels family could not perform for lack of electricity for their wired instruments.

A local couple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elston of North East street, was presented with a towel set as their prize for being the couple with the most living children. The Elstons have 12.

A couple from the Lansing Senior Citizens club won a pair of sheets, a dinner and a dozen roses for being the oldest couple present. Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Philipson were the winners. Mr. Philipson is 82.

James Snow, who is getting the local citizens' club under way, promised that there would be future meetings, programs, and social affairs. Special talks by persons connected with Social Security, Old Age Assistance and Welfare programs is planned. Dates and times will be announced later.

A.R.E. State Meet Set for Sept. 6

Saturday Sept. 6, is the date set for the annual state meeting of the Association for Rural Education. It will be held in the V. F. W. hall on the north side of St. Johns on U. S. 27.

The forenoon will be devoted chiefly to business matters, but the afternoon session will be open to the public and will feature reports on rural school problems by members from various parts of the state.

A meeting of the Eaton county branch of the association was held in Charlotte on Thursday, Aug. 14, and the group listened to a tape recording of the address given by Don Raihle, Minneapolis insurance executive, before the Interstate Association of School Organizations at LaCrosse, Wis.

Raihle outlined the history of "progressive" education and its relationship to school centralization, and defined progressive education as "A dogma under which youth learns less and less about more and more until he knows practically nothing about everything."

The recording of this speech will be available at the state meeting to those who were unable to attend either the interstate or the county gathering.

Hilliard — Gettys

Mrs. Bernice Hilliard and George Gettys were united in marriage at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 23, by the Rev. F. Willard Kime at the First Congregational church. Members of the immediate families were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Griffith attended the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Gettys are now at their farm home, near Narrow lake.

New Pastor Called To Wesleyan Church

The Rev. Lawrence J. Maxson has been called to the pulpit of the Wesleyan Methodist church and arrived here last week Wednesday with his wife and 13-year-old daughter, Rachel, from Union City, Mich. Besides the one daughter at home, they have a married daughter and four grandchildren living in Jackson.

Mr. Maxson replaces the Rev. Emory Scott who served the church for about five years. Mr. and Mrs. Scott and their two children left last week for Waldron, Mich., a small village on the Michigan-Indiana border southeast of Jackson.

Wallet Containing Nearly $500 Lost

Robert Hovis, 1601 Canal road, reported to police that he lost his billfold containing nearly $500 and valuable papers in the National bank Saturday morning.

According to Chief McDougall, Hovis accidentally left the billfold lying on a side counter while he went to the teller's window to make a deposit. He discovered the loss while at the window and turned around to find that the billfold was gone.

McDougall said the wallet contained several bills of large denominations as well as some old currency that Hovis was keeping as collector's items. The loss occurred shortly before noon and the bank was crowded with customers at the time.

Safe Foils Burglars at Food Center

Burglars who laboriously cut and chiselled their way into the Felpausch Food Center on Main street at the south city limits Saturday night or early Sunday got only $5.13 and two bottles of soda pop for their trouble.

They apparently were frightened away by the Eaton Rapids police cruiser, making a routine check of the store, before they could get into the safe, which contained the store's heavy holiday week-end receipts.

A representative of the safe manufacturer opened the safe Wednesday morning for the first time since the burglary, and all of the contents were found intact. At the same time, store employees completed a partial inventory showing that, so far as could be determined, no merchandise was missing.

The $5.13 in cash was taken from a drawer in manager Mickey Ellis' desk, which the burglars jimmied open. The two bottles of pop, one cream soda and one orange, were apparently consumed while the burglars worked on the safe. This led officers to believe that two men were involved.

Entry was gained through a 9 x 18-inch hole cut in the metal roof decking almost in the center of the store. The burglars squeezed through the hole, kicked out several panels of the acoustical tile ceiling and dropped into the store.

The safe door was badly damaged. Apparently using chisels, the burglars had knocked off the combination and bent back one corner of the outer plate, but did not gain entry.

Police believe the burglars were interested only in cash. They passed up large quantities of merchandise, including cigars and candy, as well as stacks of trading stamps.

The breakin was discovered about 9 a.m. Sunday when Barney Fowler, city electrician, drove back to the Heifetz Pickling Co. plant to check a meter. Returning to Main street, he noticed that the back door of the Felpausch store was standing open.

He notified Officer Art Colestock, who in turn notified Chief McDougall, State Police and the sheriff's office. All three departments sent investigators to the scene, and the office was checked for fingerprints.

It is believed now that the burglars were in the store for several hours and were finally frightened off when Officer Earl Keys checked there about 4:45 a. m. Sunday, parking the cruiser directly in front, with the lights shining through the display windows, and checking the doors.

After he left, apparently, the burglars fled through the back door, breaking an inside padlock to get it open.

Local officers made three previous checks of the property during the night. One was made between 11 and 11:30, another about 12:30 and the third between 2 and 2:30.

Felpausch officials in Hastings, Charlotte and Eaton Rapids were notified when the breakin was discovered and went to the store immediately to check the damage.

Tracks discovered by the officers showed that the burglars walked across lots to the back of the store, climbing on a low building at the rear to get to the roof. It is not known if they had a car parked in the neighborhood.

A prayer service will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Pettit Funeral home, the Rev. C. J. Sumner officiating. Burial will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

Pork and Pineapple Combine in Special Burgers

BY DOROTHY MARSH
These new pineapple and pork burgers are for the picnic or the home teen-age party.

A pork-pineapple blend for picnic burgers will make that day to the country an especially memorable bit of fun.

Two cups (1 pound) ground pork, 1 cup crushed pineapple, not drained, 1/2 cup egg, dry bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cumin, 10 sliced sandwich buns heated.

Combine pork, pineapple, dry bread crumbs, salt and cumin. Form mixture into 10 patties, each about 1/2 inch thick. Place on the hamburger press. Place hot between layers of meat-patties and stack a covered pan. Refrigerate until ready to use. Brown on both sides in a skillet until well done. Serve in heated buns.

The combination of sausage and lima beans is interesting. Look for this combination in the coming year. Lima Beans Sausage Casserole
