Surprising what a little paint and a lot of determination will do, isn't it? In this case the paint resulted in more of a remodeling job than the culprits intended. No doubt Charlotte's football team was almost as unhappy about the painting episode as the boys who did it, after the thoughtless pranksters got caught.

No more satisfying result could have come in Friday's game, even if the two teams had been following a script. The Greyhounds of a certainty were hearing about their mistakes this week from Elmer (Thorny) Rose, the fireball coach who in just one game has sparked his team to stir up football enthusiasm around Eaton Rapids, the likes of which hasn't been seen since the undefeated days of 1959.

But, mistakes or no, all the 'Hounds had many reasons to be happy. There were the obvious heroes — John McHugh, Neil Twichell, Mike Wilbur, Greg Canfield — but deserving no less praise were many of the others who were giving that little something extra that makes a winner.

Jerry Pell's booming punts were extremely important, one setting Charlotte back to its own two. It wasn't hard to single out six or eight more.

In the first quarter — Dave Delano stopping the Orioles' Carl Peterson on third down and forcing them to punt from their own 19.

In the second quarter — Al Rich's recovery of a fumble at the 15 which he ran to the 17 to stifle a Charlotte threat. And Canfield's point-scoring tackle of Dave Cove in the Charlotte end zone for a safety. Also, Wilbur's smashing tackle of Oriole quarterback Bob Lux to save a touchdown on the last play of the first half.

In the third quarter, Gary Strank's ferocious tackle of John Nelson for a four-yard loss on third down, forcing Charlotte to punt. Pell's recovery of a fumble after Charlotte had penetrated Eaton Rapids territory on a budding drive.

In the fourth quarter, Delano's alertness in knocking down a potential touchdown pass on fourth down. And Pell ramming Lux, knocking the ball loose, and recovering to keep Charlotte smothered deep in its own territory.

There were others, too. But these looked most important in retrospect.

However, by the time this sees the light of day, serious preparations for Mason will be completed.

There's little doubt another standing-room-only crowd will be on hand, so get there early.

Mrs. David Peck, 514 W. Broad st., won third place in the bluegill division in the fishing contest sponsored by Mort Neff of the Michigan Outdoors TV program.

Prizes will be awarded this Thursday (today) at 7 p.m. over Channel 6.

Mrs. Peck's bluegill measured 11 inches and weighed 1¾ lbs. She caught it at Cisco lake near Watersmeet in the upper peninsula while vacationing there over the July 4th weekend.

Whitey Palk won the Bonnie View men's tournament sponsored by the Bonnie View club for the third consecutive year. This gives him the trophy permanently. He has been champion seven times in 12 years. Bruce Copp of Lansing was runner-up.

The consolation flight final will be played this week between Don Blankenburg and Bill Hill.

And the score this week will be 13-12 with the Greyhounds outracing the Bulldogs.

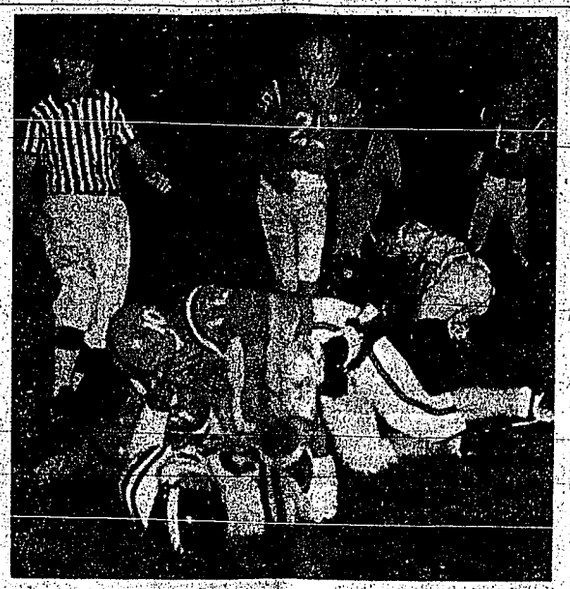
Foreign visit near for 2 Eaton youths

Early next month two Eaton county youths will become "grass roots ambassadors" when they begin six months of life in a foreign country through the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Tarry L. Edington of Grand Ledge is scheduled to fly to Thailand where he will stay with several rural families for periods of three to four weeks.

Jack L. Morse of Bellevue will follow a similar schedule in Mexico.

The I. F. Y. E. is a 4-H Club people-to-people program for selected young people 20 to 30 years old from the U. S. who will visit foreign countries and for youths of other countries to visit the U. S.



ANOTHER AIR STRIKE — Dan Ribby (25) picked up another first down for Eaton Rapids Friday night in the fourth quarter after taking a pass from John McHugh and gaining 16 yards to the Charlotte 33. The Greyhounds thumped their Oriole neighbors, 21-to 6.

DR. ROBIN A. DREWS

MSU man is Lions speaker

Because of the outstanding reputation of the speaker scheduled for its Sept. 24 meeting, the Eaton Rapids Lions club has opened the program to the public after the regular 7 p.m. meal.

Dr. Robin A. Drews, associate professor of social science at Michigan State university, will be the speaker. His subject will be "Mulligan Stew," a general talk on education.

A member of the M.S.U. staff since 1948, Dr. Drews also has taught in China and the University of Ryukus on Okinawa. He also has business experience, having served as assistant superintendent of production at the Iron Fireman Manufacturing Co. in Portland, Ore.

Greyhounds vs. Bulldogs

Grid 'dogfight' here Friday

How else could you describe Friday night's Capital Circuit football opener for Eaton Rapids and Mason on the Eaton Rapids field? With Greyhounds and Bulldogs ready to do battle, it's nothing if not a dogfight.

The 'Hounds proved that they have some bite to go along with their bark by chewing up Charlotte, 21-6, last Friday. And the Bulldogs clamped down on Stockbridge, 32-0.

Even though the Eaton Rapids gridders were highly encouraged by the triumph over Charlotte, they heard sobering news about Mason from scout Dale Dunham. He told them that Mason is "big, fast, and experienced."

That short, unpleasant evaluation wasn't exactly unexpected, however, because the Bulldogs have been picked by many to win the Circuit title. But it's a rugged assignment for the Greyhounds in their Circuit debut.

Eaton Rapids came through the Charlotte game virtually unscathed, although defensive middle guard Mike Salisbury received a bump on the knee that may keep him out of action Friday.

Coach Elmer Rose refused to single out anyone for consistently good blocking or defensive play.

"The movies of the game showed that we were very spotty," said Rose. One boy might do the job on two or three plays and then miss a couple of assignments. But we got good enough results on several occasions to take charge of the game. Our mistakes were typical of an opening game and can be corrected. We improved considerably in the second half over the first."

The Greyhounds spent more than an hour Monday viewing and discussing movies of the Charlotte game and then romped through a light workout without pads. Tuesday and Wednesday brought heavy work on methods aimed at stopping Mason Halfback Roger Hill, Quarterback Gary Underwood, and Fullback Mike Doolittle, who scored five touchdowns between them last week.

LAST WEEK'S CAPITAL CIRCUIT RESULTS

(All non-league)

Eaton Rapids 21, Charlotte 6.
Mason 32, Stockbridge 0.
Holt 27, Olivet 0.
Howell 13, Fenton 12.
Grand Ledge 28, O'Rafferty 0.
Fowlerville 13, Haslett 7.
Holland West Ottawa 2, Gabriels 0.
Jackson St. John 13, Okemos 0.

Short Circuits

Two touchdowns by Gary Underwood and a pair by Roger Hill sparked Mason to its triumph over Stockbridge.

Mistakes cost Gabriels at least three scoring chances, and Holland West Ottawa eked out a victory on a safety.

Holt rode past Olivet without trouble. Bob Bochnek tallied twice on runs of 20 and 25 yards.

Quarterback Len Gallup slammed over for a touchdown just ahead of the final gun to give Howell the narrow decision over Fenton. Morrie Coles kicked the game's only extra point.

Haslett ventured back into the league it left behind to play Fowlerville, and the Ingham County loop powerhouse spilled one of the Circuit's two new members. Dennis Evans scored Haslett's only TD.

Two early touchdowns failed to stand up as injuries to key players hurt O'Rafferty and Grand Ledge came storming back. Ron Stump's passing netted one marker and Larry Bauer banged over for the other.

Okemos penetrated inside the 20-yard line of Jackson St. John only once and couldn't score, but the Chiefs made two mistakes which cost them a pair of touchdowns.

Second-Guessers' Club

(Here's a good chance to air your second-guesses — without malice — and receive a direct answer. Everyone should have a chance to explain his actions, especially a football coach, so each week Elmer Rose of Eaton Rapids will tell just what prompted a particular decision. Only questions pertaining to strategy other than choice of personnel will be allowed.)

To get the Second-Guessers' Club off a-digging, here's one about the field goal try in the fourth quarter of last week's game against Charlotte.

Q. When you were already ahead by nine points and were on the six-yard-line, why did you decide it was better to try for a field goal than a touchdown?

A. (by Rose) At that point, I felt we had the game won, but I didn't think we could go in for the touchdown and figured it would be a good chance to fake a field goal. But Charlotte wasn't fooled. Then, when we got five yards closer because of a penalty, I told them to try again. The pass from center was high, ruining the attempt, but the line held long enough so we normally would have had a good shot at it. You never can tell when you might need one of those three-pointers.

Culprits must pay for damage

Superintendents of schools at Eaton Rapids and Charlotte have agreed that no charges will be placed against the 10 Charlotte youths who allegedly sprayed and splashed paint on and around the new Eaton Rapids high school and damaged several school buses here prior to the Eaton Rapids-Charlotte football game last week.

However, this agreement depends on the youths or their parents making restitution for the damage. Letters were sent Tuesday to parents of the youths involved, asking them to meet to discuss methods of repairing the damage.

If attempts to remove the paint from bricks at the west entrance of the school are not successful, the bricks may have to be replaced.

TECHNICIAN GRADUATE — Paul G. Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simpson, has graduated from X-Ray Technician school at Edward W. Sparrow hospital. After a two week's vacation spent with his brother and family, David Simpson at Coeur d' Alene, Idaho, he will continue his work at Sparrow hospital.

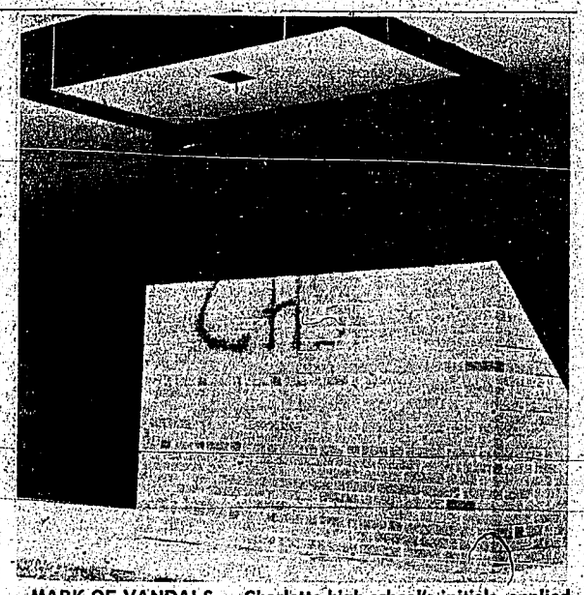
PTA to hold first meeting

The first meeting of the Eaton Rapids PTA will be held next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the cafetorium of the new high school.

R. L. Klingman, new superintendent of schools, will introduce the principals, who in turn will introduce the teachers. This is the one opportunity of the school year for parents to meet the entire teaching staff.

A social hour will follow so parents may meet the teachers individually. Refreshments will be served.

There will also be a table in the hall where anyone interested in assisting with PTA for the coming year may leave their name.



MARK OF VANDALS — Charlotte high school's initials, applied to the new Eaton Rapids high school with spray paint, must be removed and either the 10 Charlotte youths or their parents will have to make restitution for other damage caused by the misguided pranksters in an evening raid here last week.

Sidewalks top council discussion

Construction of the sidewalk on State st. to accomodate students attending the new high school has prompted city council action on providing similar walk room for elementary school children attending the Union street school.

Although councilmen tabled the matter Monday night for one week, they are agreed that a sidewalk must be built along Center st. between State st. and Union st. They intend to inspect the area and have the city coordinator make a survey to determine on which side of the street the walk should be placed.

With approximately 2,200 lineal feet of walk to be built on Center st., it is estimated that the cost will be about $1.52 per foot. However, officials said it is extremely doubtful if city crews can install the walk this fall, since the State st. walk will not be completed for at least two weeks, and the weather is uncertain after that.

Mayor Claud Basing indicated that it might be possible to contract for the work, but he said the cost would be higher. He asked city coordinator Leo Benjamin to get an estimate of the cost.

The school board, in a letter to the council, accepted an offer to have the city construct sidewalk from the western edge of school property to the walk which extends in front of the school, with the school board sharing in the cost at the same rate as is being assessed private property owners.

Also, the school board requested that the walk be six feet wide on school property. After a survey of the property and determination of exact location where the school board wants the walk, councilmen indicated they will approve the construction.

Decision on when the wider walk will be built probably will come next week.

Police Chief Darwin McDougal reported that adjustments are being made to ease the traffic situation around the new high school. He said buses now will take high school students to the old high school where they will be redistributed according to the area in which they live, thus cutting down considerably on the number of buses traveling on State street.

There was not complete accord on modernization of the traffic light at Knight and Main sts., but the motion to cooperate with the state highway department and pay half of the cost of erecting steel poles to support the signal, installing two new signals to replace the one now in service, and putting in a modern control box was passed by a 3-2 margin.

Councilmen Ray Hocott and Dick Hall, along with Mayor Basing, favored spending an estimated $1,360 for the necessary improvements. Councilmen Dan Corbin and Victor Alt opposed the motion.

City officials also have asked the state highway department to install a signal at the State-Main intersection because of the greatly-increased traffic caused by the new high school. Highway department officials will be taking traffic counts this week to determine if a signal is needed.

Club Notes

The opening meeting of the U & I club will be held Sept. 26, at the Grovenburg Methodist church at one o'clock. Martha Dixson of WJIM will be the speaker.

The AAUW will hold its first meeting of the year at the home of Ava DeCamp, Sept. 19, at 8 p.m. Winston Cheal, editor of the Eaton Rapids Journal, will speak on the function of a newspaper in a small community.

Esma Ferguson, chairman of Mass Media, will be in charge of the program and assisting her will be Mable Ford, Jan Dawson, Ava DeCamp and Dorothy Hogan.

The Brickyard Extension club will hold its first fall meeting Thursday, Sept. 19 at the Brickyard school at 10 a.m. with a potluck dinner at noon.

The Business and Professional Women's club held its first meeting of the year Monday night at the Congregational church.

Mrs. Josephine Sweezey of Coldwater, district director of BPW was the guest speaker. Miss Bertha McAllister led group singing of BPW songs with Mrs. Flossie Davidson, pianist.

Mrs. Dema Bush was program chairman assisted by Lois Lease, Evelyn Randall and Harriet Cady.

The group presented a wedding gift to Mrs. Elna Mattson Masek. The fall district meeting will be in Hastings Sept. 29.

Letter to the Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO COACH ROSE AND FOOTBALL PLAYERS

We would like to pay a well-deserved compliment to you and the players for giving us something to enjoy Friday night. Our family are football hounds, but in past years we have had nothing to howl about.

To you, Mr. Rose, thanks for giving these youngsters some incentive. To you, team, I give credit for paying attention and not looking like a bunch of fools. You did very well. You acted like you wanted to play instead of just loafing. Pay attention, boys; maybe you'll get somewhere.

Coach, you and I know there were lots of mistakes, but—they did play over them. Keep at 'em and you're sure to come out a lot better than average.

Thanks again for a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Sincerely,
Pappy & Old Ma

Explain this if you can

Can a rabbit climb a tree, fly, or how can one jump?

I called at the Homer Topliff residence on River st. last Friday afternoon to hear Homer relate this story.

He had heard a commotion on the roof of his house earlier in the day. He sat down in the dining room, facing the drive, just in time to see an object fall from the high part of his house.

When Homer looked again, a rabbit lay in the driveway. After some time, the rabbit dragged itself into some foliage beside the house.

Homer said it was still there, and when we investigated, a rabbit leaped out and ran back of the house toward the river. Mr. Cottontail was the liveliest one I ever saw for having fallen maybe 20 feet a few hours before.

Was he pushed, did he fall or jump? Maybe he slipped while fixing the TV antenna. Something for the local citizenry to ponder.

Oldsmobile introduces jetstar 88

Oldsmobile is introducing, as a lower-priced companion to the famous Dynamic 88 and Super 88, the new Jetstar 88, powered by Oldsmobile's brand new 330 cubic-inch Jetfire Rocket engine — and — the Jetstar I, a new sports type car in the medium price class, powered by the popular Starfire engine, it was announced today by J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile's general manager and a vice president of General Motors.

"In addition," he continued, "we are introducing a totally new and somewhat bigger F-85. It too is powered by Oldsmobile's newly developed lightweight cast-iron Jetfire Rocket engine.

"The all-new F-85, along with the Jetstar 88, the Jetstar I, and the 1964 Dynamic 88's, Super 88's, 98's and Starfires," Wolfram added, "will give our customers a wider choice of Oldsmobiles than ever before — 30 different models in all."

Wolfram, addressing over 200 auto writers attending Oldsmobile's 1964 National Press Preview in Detroit, said: "The Jetstar 88 is designed as a lower priced 88 for the up and coming younger families who need a full-size car. It utilizes the full-sized Oldsmobile body on a special 123-inch wheelbase chassis. Its Jetfire Rocket engine is teamed with Oldsmobile's newly developed Jetaway automatic transmission."

The full line of 1964 Oldsmobiles will be shown to the public in showrooms across the country on Oct. 4. Cochran Motors is the Eaton Rapids Oldsmobile dealer.

State's leaders unite to emphasize civil rights policy of equal opportunity

By ELMER E. WHITE
(Michigan Press Association)

Official state policy on civil rights is that no citizen should be denied education, employment or other opportunities because of his race, religion or creed.

This policy, a long-standing one, has been spelled out in detail a number of times in recent years. The emphasis throughout the country this year on civil rights has again brought Michigan's policy to the forefront.

Gov. George Romney reminded state agencies of this policy when he first took office. A short time before that, former Gov. John B. Swainson re-issued a statement of policy to all agency heads. Prior to that, long-time Gov. G. Mennen Williams emphasized his support of the equal opportunities policy.

Activities in the South recently prompted the leaders of the two major political parties here to appoint new human relations coordinators to improve the civil rights picture in Michigan.

At the same time, the state Attorney General announced a plan to implement the civil rights provisions of the new Constitution, taking effect Jan. 1.

KEEPS EYE ON EDUCATION

On the education front, Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett formed a state committee on equal educational opportunity. The committee's job is to determine where improvements might be needed to insure that each Michigan citizen gets his full civil rights in education.

It might be observed that these recent efforts can only serve their intended purpose if continued on a long-term basis. One-shot efforts in the field of civil rights would be of little value if their purpose was just to "win friends and influence people."

In civil service in Michigan, equal employment opportunities are a reality. Capacity for a position is the only factor taken into account.

In at least one other governmental unit, civil rights are being emphasized to contractors who deal with the state. The State Highway Department issues a letter each year at the beginning of the construction season.

Commissioner John C. Mackie informs contractors wishing to bid on state projects that they should hire on the basis of ability. A contractor who takes into consideration other factors could be disqualified from bidding on state work.

Continuing, unsung efforts of this type appear to be those which will further the state policy in the long run.

CREATES PARADOX

Consentration on civil rights this year brought forth one other interesting point: a paradox of sorts.

When school superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett was asked how many negro teachers were employed in various school systems, the paradox brought about by just a few years passing came into focus.

In past years, applications for various jobs including those in most school districts contained a blank where "race" was listed. Some years back, however, a hue and cry about racial discrimination prompted school districts and many other employers to leave this off job application forms.

Thus, when Bartlett was asked to count Negro teachers it became a large task to survey school districts, which in turn had to check each school.

The simple line on a job application would have eliminated this extra census, but the desires of the Negro community a few years ago had been not to have this designation available.

SAD LESSON

An "Operation Bootstrap" appears to be in order among Michigan's and the nation's youth.

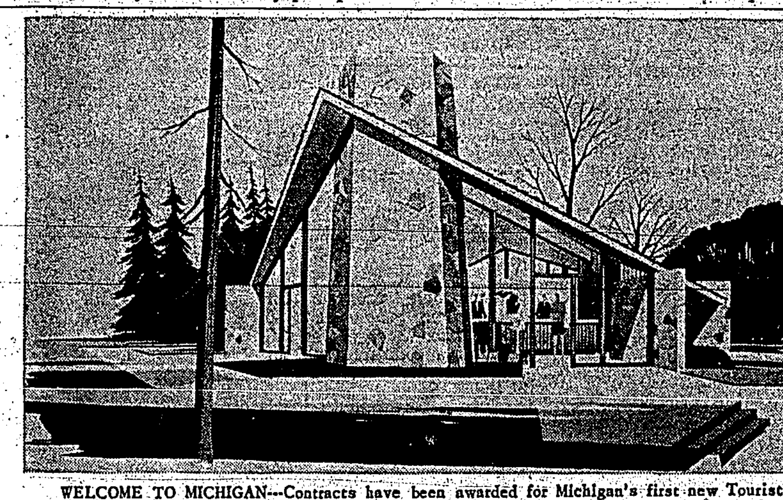
Within this state alone, an estimated 10,000 young people joined the long list of high school dropouts this fall. About double this will probably be added as the school year progresses. Past experience shows the persons on this list often are also on the unemployment rolls.

As in most experiences of life, one learns by his mistakes. For the school dropout, however, the lesson often comes too late to correct the error of cutting off education.

A youth determined to leave school most likely will have a deaf ear to a parent or older friend who attempts to convince him otherwise.

Statistics indicate that young people are unemployed at about three times the rate for the total work force, while some jobs geared for young people go unfilled because of the lack of trained applicants.

A concentrated effort by the youth leaders in the schools might well be able to spot the signs of disinterest before a dropout is recorded and convince the individual that it is to his best interest to remain in school.



WELCOME TO MICHIGAN---Contracts have been awarded for Michigan's first new Tourist Center to be built under the Michigan State Highway Department's expanded travel information program adopted by the Michigan Legislature. The rustic-appearing building was designed by Sedgewick, Sellers and Associates, Flint, Mich., architects, and is located in a Roadside Park on the Michigan-Wisconsin border at Ironwood, Mich. It will be one of seven Tourist Information Centers located at major points of entry to the Wolverine State. Nearly a quarter of a million tourists received travel information from Highway Department Information Centers this summer.

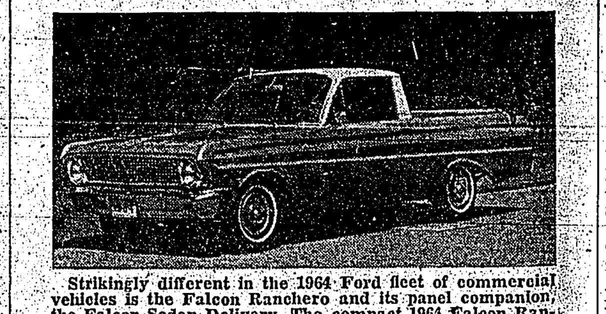
New luxury styling to match its total performance gives a bright, new look to the lineup of Ford cars for 1964. The top-selling Ford Galaxie 500 Series offers three distinctive new roof lines including the 4-door sedan (top photo). Five engines and four transmissions are offered including the Cruise-O-Matic Dual Range three-speed automatic transmission now available with all engines up to 390 cubic inches displacement.

The full Ford Galaxie line for 1964 includes 16 models with 2- and 4-door sedans, hardtops, convertibles and station wagons (bottom photo). The completely restyled cars will appear in Ford dealer showrooms September 27.



Strikingly different in the 1964 Ford fleet of commercial vehicles is the Falcon Ranchero and its panel companion, the Falcon Sedan Delivery. The compact 1964 Falcon Ranchero pickup shown here combines high style and passenger-car comfort with a handy size that can handle 80 percent of normal pickup jobs. A new, high-performance 260-cubic-inch V-8 engine is offered for 1964 together with an improved suspension for better ride and handling, better economy, and improved visibility and seating position for both short and tall drivers.

All new Ford light- and medium-duty trucks will be in Ford dealer showrooms September 27.

Past Sixty...

That cobwebbed cliche, "a good time was had by all," was really appropriate at the annaul Senior Citizens Fair held in Lansing's Civic Center September 6 to 8.

A crowd of 2,700 viewed more than 200 exhibits of needlework, handicraft, hobby collections and other leisure time products.

Mrs. Altie D. Courtright, 137 Shephard St., Lansing, was judged the grand award winner for an attractive quilt she made.

Daniel R. Masho, 92, of rural Perry, and Mrs. Mary F. Lewis, 88, of 645 Collingwood Ave., East Lansing, reigned as King and Queen of the fair. They were the oldest exhibitors.

Visitors to the fair were especially interested in the "Talent in Action" programs. These included Mac J. Smith, 76, making a metallic sunburst flower from tin cans; Otto F. Bauer, 68, painting lawn figures; and Orla J. Rider, playing the piano.

The Pilot Club, the Civitan Club and the Lansing Recreation Department cooperated in sponsoring the fair.

Lansing's program for the aging has a new director: Rev. Gerald K. Wyman, who for the past seven years had served as minister of the Unitarian-Universalist church in the capital city.

He succeeds Bradley P. Smith as projects director in charge of aging for the Lansing Community Services Council. Smith has returned to his native Massachusetts to assume charge of a United Fund program in a community near Boston.

Genial and very likable, Jerry Wyman is devoted to humanitarian causes of all types. He has been active in Lansing in organizing the World Affairs Council and the Human Relations Council and is a member of the Lansing Advisory Council to the FEPC.

Jerry came to Lansing from Caribou, Maine, where he was minister of the Universalist church for six years. He was an air force chaplain in World War II and an army reserve chaplain. A graduate of Colby College and Bangor Seminary, he and Mrs. Wyman have a married daughter and a son who enters Michigan State University this fall.

From the Pastor's Study

One of the real paradoxes of human history is centered in the Church of Christ. All of us are familiar with the emphasis placed upon love as the indispensable characteristic of a follower of Christ. It was God, as one who loves and wants to be loved by us, that Christ taught. His Gospel has been known as "The Gospel of Love", yet proclaiming this Gospel in word down through the year. The church has sought to impose itself upon others through violence.

We today cannot smugly say "But that was another day. You don't see that today. Not in the Christian church of 1963." But isn't that a rationalization?

Our churches are the one place in life, above all others, where we should feel free to express our true feelings and opinions without being threatened by the disagreement of others but in no other area are we more sensitive and more easily hurt than in this realm.

Yes, too often we too are guilty of promulgating the Gospel of love through the forces of fear and hate. We have all experienced it — even in these 1960's. Maybe it's a misunderstanding of the nature of Christian love.

Let us consider it Sunday in a message "Christian Love, Reconsidered."

Scoring

Touchdowns: Charlotte — Staron (9-yd. run); Eaton Rapids — Twichell 2 (both 47-yd. passes from McHugh), McHugh (1-yd. run).

Conversion: Eaton Rapids — Ribby (kick).

Safety: Eaton Rapids — Canfield tackled Cove.

McHugh to Twichell clicks twice

Safety first, always a good policy, might become the motto of the Eaton Rapids high school football team after the Greyhounds, trailing by six points Friday night against Charlotte, regained their poise by tallying two points on a safety and then struck again immediately with a touchdown which launched them into a 21-6 victory orbit.

The triumph had significance in many directions for the Greyhounds. It was the first time since 1959 that they had conquered their biggest rival, Charlotte. The game also was their first since the new school opened, and it gained them a measure of revenge for the smearing of paint on the new Eaton Rapids school by several Charlotte youths.

Also, the victorious season opener made new coach Elmer Rose's debut as head coach here an extremely successful one.

There was an overflow crowd of more than 3,000 on hand to cheer on the two well-matched teams in a surprisingly well-played opening game.

Both teams showed ability to move the ball on the ground, but Eaton Rapids proved its superiority through the air with a couple of perfectly-executed passes from John McHugh to Neil Twichell which caught the Oriole defense napping.

The two touchdown tosses were almost identical, each covering 47 yards and each going into the left flat where Twichell caught them beautifully in stride and flashed down the sideline into the end zone.

McHugh himself plunged a yard for the final touchdown as time ran out. Four desperation passes had failed to connect and the Orioles surrendered the ball at their own 20 with just time enough for Eaton Rapids to

(See Eaton Rapids, P. 5, Col. 1)

LAST-MINUTE STRATEGY

Eaton Rapids football coach Elmer Rose must have dispensed the right kind of advice in the last-minute talk before the Charlotte game last week, because the Greyhounds whomped the Orioles, 21 to 6.

Eaton Rapids shakes . . .

move in for its third marker.

Tabbed in pre-season estimates as a capable defensive team with a questionable offense, Eaton Rapids gave the lie to that part about its offense right after the kickoff.

Mike Wilbur sliced off 30 yards on the first play from scrimmage, dashing to the Charlotte 31-yard-line. Before the Orioles could recover, Twichell had a first down at the 17.

But the threat died at the nine after a one-yard loss and incomplete pass cost the 'Hounds a pair of downs.

Charlotte made one first down but was sidetracked by a penalty and kicked. Eaton Rapids came right back to the 15, after starting at the 41. Dave Delano covered 19 yeards on a nifty, side-stepping, change-of-pace run up the middle. A fumble two plays later killed the chance.

After another Charlotte punt to midfield, Eaton Rapids got nowhere fast, losing 15 yards on a penalty and six on a pass attempt that never was launched.

This gave the Orioles some breathing room, and with the power runs of Joe Staron leading the way, they fluttered down to the 15 where Al Rich scooped up a fumble and pushed ahead to the 17.

Unable to move much, the 'Hounds had to punt, but the pass from center sailed over Jerry Pell's head, and Charlotte needed only one play to score from the nine, with Staron blasting to the goal line.

Delano let the Orioles know that there was plenty of fighting spark left in Eaton Rapids by galloping back 24 yards with the kickoff to the 39. Although an interference infraction against Charlotte helped the Greyhounds advance to enemy territory again, they stalled at the 35. Pell's punt rolled dead at the one-yard-line, but the 'Hounds were offside.

Pell kicked again. A Charlotte back signaled for a fair catch but dropped the ball and recovered it at the two. On the next play, Greg Canfield gained credit for a safety by tackling Dave Cove in the end zone.

That really ignited the Eaton Rapids fuse, and then the touchdown bomb exploded right after the ensuing free kick by Charlotte.

Twichell hammered to the Charlotte 47 with the kickoff, carrying it back 23 yards, and then came the play which gave Greyhound fans the first scent of victory.

McHugh faded to throw, waited until Twichell evaded the over-eager Oriole defender, and hit him at the 43 with a perfectly timed pass. Twichell knew where to go, and he arrived at the goal line before the straining Charlotte safety man who had to come across the field after him.

Oriole quarterback Bob Lux gave the Greyhounds a scare on the last play of the first half when he couldn't spot a receiver open and took off down the sideline. Wilbur saved a touchdown by dropping Lux at the 13 after a 31-yard gain.

On its first series of downs after the half, Eaton Rapids jumped its lead to 15-6. McHugh changed his aerial target and hit Canfield for a 25-yard gain to the Charlotte 48. Delano carried on the next play and bobbled the ball, but he recovered and gained a yard, putting the pigskin on the Greyhounds' favorite spot, the 47-yard line.

Just as on its first scoring play, McHugh waited until Twichell broke into the clear, hitting him this time at the 41, and there was no one within shouting distance as Twichell twisted over the goal.

Pell's recovery of a fumble late in the fourth quarter gave Eaton Rapids another TD shot, but they bogged down at the six and a field goal try fizzled.

However, Charlotte kept trying and passed four straight times without moving from the 20, so the 'Hounds leaped at the chance for one last six-pointer and made it just as the clock's hands reached 12.

Statistically, Charlotte had a four-yard edge in rushing, but the wide passing advantage by Eaton Rapids gave the Greyhounds a 275-198 margin in total yards gained.

Plant a crop in deep, rich soil and you plant a crop that will flourish.

Something gives it life. Sun and rain, yes, and certainly rich, abundant soil . . . and yet, something more, something that gives it the ability to seek and use strength.

Someone gives US life . . . nourishing food, warm comfortable shelter, these help certainly. But still . . . something else. Our souls reach far below the surface of everyday existence to find our deeper faith in God's wisdom and power.

We place ourselves at His mercy. We seek Him often in prayer and worship, and "times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord."

Having found this fountain of faith, like the harvest, we point ever heavenward to share with others our discovery.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Robbins, Grovenburg churches to honor Rev. and Mrs. Salisbury

The congregations of the Robbins and Grovenburg Methodist churches will honor their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Gerald A. Salisbury, at an open house on Saturday, September 21.

Hours will be from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Robbins church on Bunker road, just off Waverly road, and from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Grovenburg church on Grovenburg road.

The occasion will commemorate Rev. Salisbury's 25th year in the ministry, as well as the couple's silver wedding anniversary. Members of the Women's Societies of Christian Service are in charge of the arrangements. Friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend.

Except for three years at the Newaygo Methodist church and one year of sabbatical leave, Rev. Salisbury has served churches in the Albion-Lansing District. He was appointed to the Robbins-Grovenburg charge in July, 1962, after an eight-year pastorate at the Bath Methodist church.

Church News

Four children of the First Methodist Sunday School had perfect attendance during the past year. Susan Dewberry of the Primary department, and Jill Thomson, Pat White, and Eddie Carmichael of the Junior department did not miss a Sunday. Linda Britton and Carole Strobe were absent only the Sundays they were on vacation.

Rev. Warren Smith, who has been serving churches in New York City, Virginia and North Carolina the past summer, will be the speaker at John W. Bunker Memorial church at evening service on Sept. 22. There also will be a 2:30 service and bohemian dinner at 4:30.

A reception will be held in Fellowship Hall, Congregational church, Sunday, Sept. 22 from 3 to 5 p.m. welcoming Rev. George Seaford and family. Public is invited.

Mrs. Wayne Figg
CORRESPONDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris of East Lansing visited the Wayne Figgs recently.

Almost every family was represented at the Grand Valley Farm Bureau meeting which was held Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cloar. Next meeting will be Oct. 17 at the 4-H building in Charlotte for the County annual-ham dinner event.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bailey have moved into the Figgs' tenant house.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stepanovich are the proud parents of a new baby daughter.

Dorothy and Darryl Crittenden, Mildred Lundberg, and Wayne Lynn and David Figg attended the Eaton Rapids-Charlotte football game Friday night.

Mildred Lundberg won a blue ribbon on the angel food cake she entered at the 4-H fair. She also received a yellow ribbon which entitled her to exhibit at the State Fair.

Migrant ministers here work hard to help 350 migrants enjoy stay

Untiring efforts of two migrant ministers, supported by work of the Tri-County Migrant Committee working under the auspices of the Michigan Migrant Ministry in Paw Paw, provided religious services, recreation, music, help in writing letters, assistance in buying clothing, and many other services again this summer to nearly 350 migrant workers in the Eaton Rapids area.

Dr. Edward G. Grandy, secretary of the Tri-County committee, said Jose Luis Castuera and Jesse Bermudez worked constantly to make life pleasanter for workers here.

The two young ministers lived at the First Methodist old parish house here. The Presbyterian church of Mason loaned their recordio, record player, film strip projector and screen to the ministers.

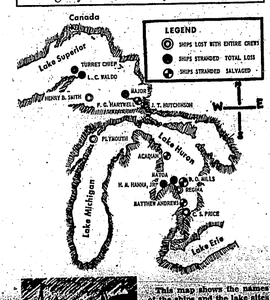
Anniversary of Worst Great Lakes Tragedy Recalled by WSU Book



Tourist Council offers fall color folders free

Motorists planning to take in Michigan's dramatic fall color show which is getting underway will find a new Michigan Tourist Council publication available to assist them.

Publication of a folder, "Michigan Autumn Tour Guide," has been announced by Council Director William T. McGraw. The new folder is now in production and is expected to be available by mid-September.

"The increasing interest in fall vacations emphasized the need for a publication dealing with one of our most popular autumn activities," said McGraw. "With this folder the fall vacationer can plan a trip to some of Michigan's major attractions and include some of the most beautiful fall foliage in the state."

The new folder is similar in format to the ski maps produced by the Council in recent years. It contains 24 map insets depicting representative color tours throughout the state and includes information on specific points of interest.

"By using the new guide and local and regional information the growing number of post-Labor Day vacationers and weekend travelers will find that there is much to see and do at this time of year in Michigan," McGraw said.

Copies of the new color tour guide are available free of charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 26, Michigan.

Probate Orders

Ion C. McLaughlin of Charlotte, Eaton county judge of probate, has appointed Patricia Juel Shepardson of Eaton Rapids, administratrix of the estate of Pauline I. Rowe, deceased; Clarion E. Rossman of Route 3, Eaton Rapids, executor of the estate of Mabel E. Rinkle, deceased; and Michigan National Bank of Lansing, administrator of the estate of Bertha L. Jackson, deceased.

WE STICK TO OUR LASTS

DETROIT—Fifty years have elapsed since the Black Sunday storm—greatest disaster in Great Lakes history—claimed the lives of 248 sailors, involved 67 vessels in disaster and brought a property loss of $4,197,400.

For those who lived on the shores of the Lakes in 1913, the story of "Black Sunday" is a never-to-be-forgotten tale, a tale of man against the elements in which man was the loser.

A detailed eye-witness account of this storm is given in a recent Wayne State University Press book titled "Freshwater Fury."

According to Frank Barcus, Detroit architect who authored the book, the Great Storm first made itself known November 7 in Minnesota. During the daylight hours of Friday, the storm was over Marquette and then moved to the Soo area by Saturday morning, changing direction and traveling to Alpena by nightfall.

On November 9, it tore across Lakes Huron and Erie with 90-mile winds whipping up 40-foot-high waves.

By the time the storm began to dissipate in the St. Lawrence Valley November 11, the full impact of the tragedy began to be realized. Off-shore disasters were reported along Lake Huron at six points: Port Huron, Corsica Shoal, Port Sanilac, Harbor Beach, Point Aux Barques (two ships) and Alpena. On Lake Michigan one was reported near Escanaba. Off the shore of Lake Superior disasters occurred near Point Iroquois, Iroquois Light, Whitefish Point, Marquette, Copper Harbor and nearby Manitou Island.

These disasters along the State of Michigan's shoreline resulted in the loss of four vessels with their entire crews; and the stranding of ten ships, five of which became total losses.

Throughout the Great Lakes, the final toll showed the worst recorded storm in Great Lakes history. Deaths on Lake Huron alone totaled 188. Involving 24 light hours of Friday, the storm was over Marquette and then moved to the Soo area by Saturday morning, changing direction and traveling to Alpena by nightfall.

On November 9, it tore across Lakes Huron and Erie with 90-mile winds whipping up 40-foot-high waves.

By the time the storm began to dissipate in the St. Lawrence Valley November 11, the full impact of the tragedy began to be realized. Off-shore disasters

Delos Skinner's Holstein has enviable production record

A 4-year old Holstein cow owned by Delos Skinner of Route 2, Eaton Rapids, has completed a lactation record of 20,529 lbs. of milk and 765 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

Less than 150 of the 75,000 cows on test in Michigan dairy herd improvement associations exceed 20,000 pounds in 305 days according to records kept in the DHIA Data Processing Center at Michigan State University.

The average DHIA cow produces about 11,500 pounds of milk in a 305-day lactation. The average Michigan cow produces about 8,000 pounds.

Skinner is a member of the Eaton County DHIA. Garry Haigh is the supervisor for the association.

FINAL TAX REFUND WARNING

All farm operators should be sure to make their claim for refund of federal tax on gasoline used on the farm before September 30th. This amounts to four cents per gallon used and is for all gasoline used between July 1, 1962 and June 30, 1963. The gallons should be the same as that used for state gas tax refund. Receipts are not needed but records should be available if called for.

Report forms were mailed to all farmers who had filed claims in the past. However, those not receiving the form by 22-60 should stop at the Eaton County Extension Office, 126 North Bostwick in Charlotte or call 543-2310 and a copy with instructions will be mailed to you.

ELEVATOR CAREER DAY

Young men interested in a career in the elevator or farm supply business are invited to attend the 1963 Elevator Career Day, Saturday, September 21.

The program will be held at the Union Memorial Building at Michigan State University and will start with registration at 11:00 a.m. and will adjourn at 4:15 p.m. High school juniors and seniors with a farm background are especially urged to attend.

FARMERS' WEEK BEEF STEER SHOW

Cattle feeders are invited to enter up to three calves in the 1964 Farmers' Week Beef Steer Show. Calves will be divided into two classes. The senior class will be those born between August 1 and October 31, 1962 and the junior class will be those born November 1, 1962 through January 31, 1963.

Enrollments must be made by October 15, 1963 at the Extension Office in Charlotte. A minimum weight of 700 lbs. will be required at show time February 3-7, 1964. All steers will be judged and then sold.

Try pre-breakfast baking to arouse sluggish appetites

When breakfast surveys are made, one often-heard reason for skipping or skimping on breakfast is lack of appetite in the morning. This response probably has a familiar sound to many mothers. And yet, knowing the importance of a sound breakfast to their families and themselves, homemakers are in agreement that a nourishing meal should be eaten.

One sure-fire appetite rouser is the smell of baking, specially muffins baking. Bake Honey Crumb Muffins some September morning, and even long-forgotten breakfast appetites are bound to come around. These honey-sweet muffins use corn flake crumbs to give a golden crumb and good grain flavor.

Serve warm Honey Crumb Muffins with butter and, if desired, apple butter or grape jelly. Around the muffins build a breakfast of juice, or fresh melon, assorted read-to-eat cereals, milk and coffee, and eggs if desired.

HONEY CRUMB MUFFINS

2¼ cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups corn flakes or ½ cup corn flake crumbs, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 cup milk, ¼ cup honey, ¼ cup shortening, melted.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Mix corn flake crumbs with sifted dry ingredients. Combine egg, milk and honey. Add to dry ingredients, together with shortening, stirring only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Yield: 12 muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

HELP YOUR CHILD DEVELOP RESPONSIBILITY

"The best time to help your child to develop responsibility is when he begins to act like he wants to do something for himself," says Dr. William H. Marshall, family life specialist with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

However, most parents have difficulties in letting their children "help" when they first become interested because the child is more likely to be a hindrance than give actual assistance. "But what is our purpose, asks Marshall — to save time or to help the child learn?"

This is especially true of learning to feed oneself. Naturally when child of 12-15 months begins to feed self he will be messy and you will have to clean up after him, comments the specialist. But getting his food down by himself is an important step for the child and it is also a necessary part of his learning process.

Remember, adds the expert, that usually a small child has a short span of attention. And when he decides to undertake a big, time-consuming project, chances are it will probably take only 10 or 15 minutes or less before he is on to something else.

Clive Rosenbrook, a graduate of Eaton Rapids high school, took over the duties of purchasing agent at Michigan State college September first.

The N. I. club will meet with Mrs. Reuben King near Grace church Thursday, Sept. 22, in the afternoon.

Allie Henry has a sow that gave birth to 13 pigs a few days ago.

Mrs. Violet Pahl and four daughters and one son visited Mrs. Carrie Pierce of the Plains road last Sunday.

Ed. Darling of the Brickyard district has greatly improved the cemetery. It has been enlarged and graded, old fences torn down and old trees removed.

Mrs. Anna Dennison, a former resident of the South Eaton district, is in Sparrow hospital suffering with a broken hip.

Some of the spirea and other kinds of hedges are starting over again. Can't be they have enough summer yet.

Will Bracey had a vacation from his work at Jackson prison last week. He and Mrs. Bracey visited relatives at Ithaca and Weidman.

Mrs. Clarence Long was surprised Wednesday evening when several friends drove in with happy birthday greetings and spent a social evening.

40 Years Ago

From Journal of Sept. 14, 1923

As an experiment this year there has been introduced into the high school a new procedure in the field of education known by term "supervised study". This means that the students are supervised in their studying. According to some educators one reason for so many failures in high school is that the students do not know how to get their lessons.

At the Capitol Theatre this week: "The Glimpses of the Moon" with Bebe Daniels and Nita Naldi and "The Masquerader" with Guy Bates Post.

The highest temperature of the past week as recorded by the First National Bank was 98 last Wednesday, Sept. 5 and the lowest 41 at 5 a.m. Monday, Sept. 10.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Briggs have returned home from their summer resort at Narrow lake and are planning to establish a grocery at their Water street home.

A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walworth Aug. 31. He has been named Kenneth Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Webber are spending a couple of weeks in the northern part of the state.

Mrs. Milton Rasmussen is leaving this week for Madison, Wis., where she is a student at the state university.

Claris Arnold, for many years a resident near the Grace church, died at Sparrow hospital last Thursday at the age of 64.

Clarence Hall, D. Markle and Orrice Hieser attended the fair at Detroit last week.

Miss Hannah Freed in company with Mrs. Jay Huber and Miss Mamie Cook of Charlotte spent Wednesday in Lansing visiting friends.

MISS DEB

Q. A friend of mine has telephone-itis. She keeps me on the phone for hours at a time and my family is wild. How can I cut it short without cutting off her friendship?

A. A telephone is definitely a family affair. Hour-long chats rate zero in the family popularity poll. If your pal is wound up for a long session, plunge in at the first comma, make a date to see her soon (like tomorrow after school) and tell her you really want to talk about it then.

Q. Does baby sitting include K. P.? One of my "clients" always leaves a sink full of dirty dishes — even tells me to mop up the floor. Since there are three active children I think I have enough to do just "sitting." Do I have the right to say no?

A. Yes. Settle the chore question before you accept the next assignment. Your client should tell you what chores she expects you to do aside from caring for the children. If you don't mind — and many girls don't — fine. If you do — or if you feel it interferes with your primary responsibility of supervising the children — parents will appreciate your being frank about it. Of course, as an employee you always have the right to accept or refuse a baby sitting assignment.

Q. My mirror tells me my figure isn't too bad, but I do have a tendency to slump. I try to remember to square my shoulders, but as soon as I stop thinking about it, my shoulders begin to droop.

A. What you need is a sticky reminder. While you assume your very best prom-queen posture, have your mother put a strip of adhesive tape across your back from shoulder to shoulder. Every time you start to droop, a gentle tug from the tape will remind you to keep 'em square.

(For answers to other questions on grooming, beauty and baby sitting write for your two-in-one guidebook "Sitting Beauty." Send 25 cents; plus 10 cents for handling to: "Sitting Beauty," Box 551-P Kimberly-Clark Corporation, Neenah, Wisconsin.)

EATON RAPIDS Telephone lines

By CHARLES SCHAEFER, Mgr.

With EATON RAPIDS schools opening this month with an enrollment of 2600, keep ever in mind that out guessing a group of youngsters on their way to or from school requires special alertness, special skill, on the part of every driver. In view of this, our company's safe driver training program for every employee whose job includes driving a company car or truck gets extra emphasis right now. It's one of the most important ways in which we try to be good citizens and good neighbors.

IN A STEW about lots of errands to do—when you have to stay home and cook a meal, too? If so, you need a handy kitchen extension phone! With a kitchen phone you can order groceries, call a TV repairman, check up on the youngsters at a neighbor's house, ask if that dress in the ad comes in blue . . . and still keep your eye on what's cooking. Besides, an extension phone adds just the right spot of color to your kitchen wall. Costs just pennies a day, after a small, one-time installation charge. Call us now and order yours.

"FAST AND ACCURATE"—that's the motto of Michigan Bell's Long Distance Operators when they take down information concerning calls you place through them. They use an "electrographic pencil" that writes at the merest touch, glides swiftly to the next line. A specially designed card is used for recording the exact information for each call. Of course, in many areas, customers can dial most of their calls direct. But it's nice to know that your calls placed through the Operator, too, will go through swiftly and accurately.

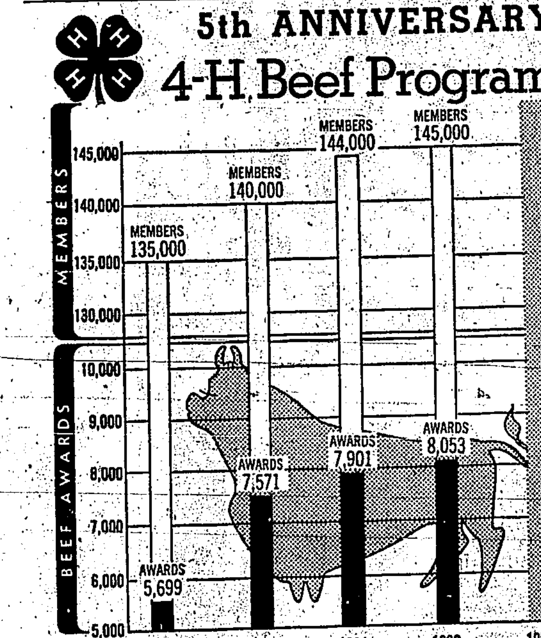
5th ANNIVERSARY 4-H Beef Program



The 1963 National 4-H Club Congress and the International Live Stock show the first week in December are destined to be once-in-a-lifetime experiences for a 4-H beef project winner.

An all-expense trip to Chicago awaits the state's top prize winner. The boy or girl also will be considered for one of six $500 college scholarships presented to the highest ranking 4-H beef cattle producers in the nation.

This year marks the 5th anniversary of the beef program sponsorship by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company. During the last five years participation and awards won by 4-H'ers have increased markedly.

Extension Supervised

Supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, the program in 1962 attracted more than 145,000 boys and girls in nearly every state compared to about 135,000 in 1959. Enrollment is expected to show another increase when the 1963 figures are compiled.

Chance to Learn

The beef program offers 4-H'ers opportunities to learn and apply latest methods of breeding, feeding and marketing. Much of the original research and testing were done by the agricultural experiment stations.

The youths also practice judging, fitting and showing of animals, and demonstrate various aspects of livestock production and management.

Awards Not Easy

Progress reports, personal development and service to the community are considered when 4-H award winners are selected.

Three girls and 21 boys already have claimed scholarships and next December six more youths will join this elite group.
