Banquet of County Rural Youth

The second annual Banquet of the Eaton County Rural Youth Bureau will be held November 12 at 7:15 p. m. at the Grange Hall in Charlotte.

This Youth Bureau is for out of school farm people and was organized by them about two years ago. Its purpose is to provide recreation for young people of Eaton County.

At the meetings which are held every three weeks the members gain experience in leadership by serving on the committees.

The Officers are Ivan Baker, Walton, President; Maxine Parmele, Kalamo, Vice President; Bethel Keefer, Roxand, Secretary; and Mildred Towns, Hamlin, Treasurer. Don Shepard with Michigan State College Short Courses is the group's advisor.

Many old favorite recreational activities are included in the programs, such as: barn dances, corn husking bees, hay rides, and shadow socials. Besides these some educational feature is included at each meeting, usually a speaker, movie, demonstration, or panel discussion.

The planning committee was James Wood, Brookfield, Chairman; Donna Swift, Charlotte; Dorothy & John Dickinson, Eaton; Vena and Bethel Keefer, Roxand; and Russell Bradley, Benton.

Anyone interested in our rural young people are invited to attend and may reserve tickets from the committee members.

Child Study Club

The Child Study club will meet Thursday, November 12, at the home of Mrs. Roberta Houston with Mrs. Fern Rouse as assistant hostess. Roll call will be One Step I can take toward World Peace. This will be guest night and Mrs. Mildred Harrell the guest speaker.

Increase of Soy Bean Crop

Planting 5527 acres as compared with 1688 acres in 1941. This increased acreage was in response to the government request that we raise oil-bearing crops to make up for the lost imports of oil. Uncle Sam needs every bushel of soybeans raised and has authorized the Commodity Credit Corporation to give loans of $1.67 for Grades 1 and 2 and $1.57 per bushel for grades 3 and 4. They will take beans with a moisture content of 14 percent or less. Beans with a moisture content of more than 14 percent cannot be used and it is advisable to shell out a few and have them tested before you thresh.

Because of the national increase requested by the government, we find we have 200 million bushel on hand and facilities for only 105 million bushel. Normally the plants close down when the season is over but they will keep open all year if necessary. Therefore it is urgent that farmers store their soybeans at home if at all possible. The seven cents of the price is for storage if farmers can store them at home. However, for those who cannot store them the CCC has authorized the AAA to act as purchasing agent. The County AAA Committee has made arrangements for wooden bins to hold the beans purchased outright by the CCC.

Having completed his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Illinois, Carl Munro French, 25, son of Mrs. Bernice French, Route 1, Eaton Rapids, will be home on a nine-day leave Monday, November 9.

THE FIGHTING FRONT. Banks are lending for war production, selling war bonds, helping people meet income taxes which pay for the war, and serving in many other ways which contribute directly to our war effort.

THE HOME FRONT. Banks serve also in keeping the economic machine running smoothly, providing needed financial services to men and women everywhere, assisting individuals and business concerns in meeting the problems of the day.

Nov. 22-28 for Biggest Sales

Retail Stores, Women's Organizations Combine in Sale Bonds and Stamps

The Retail and the Women's sections of the War Savings staff are combining forces to promote the sale of war bonds and stamps during the week of November 22 to 28, inclusive, and make it the biggest week of selling since Pearl Harbor.

The work in Eaton Rapids under the chairmanship of Agnes Corbett will be done thru the retail stores, bank, and various women's organizations. These organizations will each have a chairman who is looking after sales in his respective group, and during that week the chairmen will urge their members to buy their limit in both stamps and bonds.

Retail stores are asked to prepare to give part of the customer's change in stamps and to co-operate in other ways. This is an all-American state-wide and city-wide mobilization of American women, not just for one week but for the duration. The nation can bank on Eaton Rapids giving its support to this important work.

To honor Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Springer on their fiftieth wedding anniversary their daughters, Mrs. R. W. Kidder, Mrs. N. T. Taylor and Mrs. H. H. Wedgeworth entertained Sunday evening at the latter's home in Belle Glade, Florida. Mrs. W. B. The bride of fifty years ago was attired in a gown of pastel blue lace and wore a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums; the groom wore a boutonniere of yellow chrysanthemums.

The house, decorated with large vases of chrysanthemums and zinnias made an appropriate background for the lace covered dining table with its three tiered yellow wedding cake over which the bride presided. Ice cream with a yellow wedding bell in the center was served to the more than fifty friends who came to make this a happy occasion.

The couple's children and grandchildren were all present except a granddaughter, Helen Jean Wedgeworth, who telephoned during the reception to give her congratulations, from Athens, Georgia, where she is attending college. TOO MANY "HELPERS"

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE by TOPPS

A & P Distribution Saving to Buyers

Efficient distribution of the nation's food supply is essential in order that our armed forces, our Allies and the home front will obtain the maximum benefits of American farmers' record 1942 production, Clement Wall, vice-president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Grand Rapids unit, declared today.

Announcing the local celebration of the company's 83rd anniversary, he said not a pound of this important weapon of war is wasted.

"Our policy of shortening the distance between farm and family dinner table by eliminating unnecessary marketing steps helps conserve food by cutting out the many needless handlings which result in much waste and spoilage of food."

Emphasizing that this straight-line marketing system also shortens the transportation time and thus releases vital railway and truck equipment for movement of other war materials, the store executive declared, "speed is a vital factor in winning the war and fast, efficient methods of food distribution are as important to war production on the home front as the most modern weapons of blitz warfare are to our men on battle-fronts."

Wall gave an anniversary salute to the more than 11,000 A & P employes now serving in the armed forces of the United States and Canada and pledged that "those of us still at home will continue to do all we can to back them up."

In addition to its role in the war effort, he said straight-line marketing also means greater returns to growers and less costs to consumers. He cited results achieved by A & P in cutting the cost of distributing fresh fruits and vegetables.

"During the four years from 1937 to 1941, A & P reduced its buying and retailing expenses in connection with fresh fruits and vegetables 29 per cent, damage and spoilage 13 per cent, and warehouse and cartage expenses 17 per cent," he said. "The savings thus achieved have been passed on to consumers, growers and shippers."

This will give an opportunity to the public to inspect a choice selection of the latest books. As a special feature of the book week celebration reservations will be accepted on Monday only.

Americans are thinking fast this autumn, not only about winning the war, but also about winning the peace; consequently the new books are stimulating. The spontaneous humor in several of the lighter sketches is one of the happy surprises of the season, and a spice of adventure is not lacking in the new travel features. All in all, the publishers have chosen material that will suit a wide variety of tastes and will definitely give the readers a lift.

The book week order also includes twenty-nine reprints of light fiction. but these will not be held on reserve.

Members Gave Fine Program

Morning Musicale Presented Piano Ensemble Chorus and String Trio Tuesday

A very enjoyable program was given by talented members of the Morning Musicale at the Congregational church at the Tuesday morning meeting.

After a short business meeting, the program was turned over to Mrs. Dale Punter, acting chairman for the day, who introduced the following program:

Piano ensemble by Mrs. Harrie Whittum, Mrs. Harold Gillett, Mrs. Roland Topliff, Mrs. Leroy Perine under the direction of Mrs. Fred Hunt:

"Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" —Bach; "Oxen Minuet"—Haydn; "Dance of the Candy Fairies," and "Russian Dance" — from the Nut Cracker Suite — Tchaikovsky. Ladies chorus directed by Mrs. Manley Card and accompanied by Mrs. R. G. Toncray: Looking for the Bright Rainbow"— McCarthy; "The Cuckoo Clock" — Grant Schaefer; "Night Falling Grenade" "We Must Be Vigilante." String trio by Mrs. Charles Miller, violin; Mrs. Carl Sprinkle, cello; Mrs. R. G. Toncray, piano; "Hungarian Dance" — Brahms; "Liebestraum"—Liszt.

Much credit is given the directors, who gave an interesting history of the composers, and the members for presenting such a splendid program.

Red Cross

The membership drive for the Junior Red Cross, which has been underway during the past two weeks, comes to a close November 15. Chairman Harry Denison is especially interested in seeing Eaton County go over the top in their drive as the excess raised over the assigned quota will be used in the county to help finance the heavy activity program.

Eaton County Junior Red Cross workers have been asked to provide more than 7,000 items during the coming year. Any youth organization interested in helping provide these items should contact Mr. or Mrs. Harry Denison at the County school commissioner's office in Charlotte.

Included on the list of items asked to be furnished by the Eaton County Chapter are 500 slippers for use in hospitals, with requests coming through from headquarters this week for the doubling of this quota.

The Red Cross Standard Nutrition Course is being given by the Grand Ledge Branch to a class of twenty-five. Mrs. Fern Bills is the Nutrition chairman and Miss Jean Learned, the Home Economics teacher, has been approved as instructor.

Mrs. Ward Hynes' unit of the Charlotte Canteen Aides served coffee and fried cakes to the nineteen selectees leaving Monday afternoon, November 9, for Fort Custer.

Kiwanis Korner

The regular Tuesday program was eliminated this week because it had been suggested to hold an open meeting, when each member had the opportunity to put in his kick about anything or everything, make suggestions and say whatever else he cared to. Numerous suggestions were offered.

Dr. Sid B. Goff is now with the 358th Medical Bat., 90th Division, Infantry, Camp Barkley, Texas.

Mark Putnam is reported as getting along nicely in the Billings hospital, Chicago.

Nominations for election next Tuesday.

Colored slides taken at the recent 4-H State fair were shown by Ralph May. He commented on 4-H club work in Eaton county.

Mr. May also announced the 4-H honor members in livestock, dairy, poultry colt and garden club work. From this list the 4-H club week delegates will be picked. Included in this list are:

Dairy — Orville Rager, Eaton Rapids; Maynard Ells, Carmel; Harry Hisler, Winton Hice, Howard Maurer and Lawton Swan, Brookfield.

Poultry — Madonna Clapper, Eaton Rapids; James Ballard, Esther Ballard and Herbert Clarke, Hamlin.

Garden — Virginia Hall, Hamlin.

Food Preparation — Dona Vierk, Brookfield.

Music was furnished by the Yodeling Cowgirls of Grand Ledge.

Hans Kardel awarded on behalf of the 4-H Fair club sweaters to Yvonne Thuma, Hamlin, who sold the most membership tickets for the Fair, her record being 82, and Bill Dunning, Chester, who sold 79 tickets.

The highest honors announced were achieved by two Windsor club girls, Viola Marrison and Wanda Finison who were selected to represent Michigan at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. This award was a result of winning in the Clothing demonstration contest held at Michigan State college at the time of the State 4-H Show. Mrs. Ruth Jachalke is the leader of the club in which the girls are enrolled and the good results are due to a large extent to her efforts and success in training this team.

Each of the 51 4-H Summer Club leaders were introduced and 4-H Certificates of Achievement and 4-H pins and other awards presented to club members who finished their projects.

At the close of the meeting ice cream and cake were served by the Charlotte Grange ladies.

The Business and Professional Women's club held the last meeting at the home of Mrs. Glennis Peterson Tuesday evening with dinner served at seven o'clock. The guest speaker was Supt. H. A. Nelson of the local schools who was accompanied by Mrs. Nelson. Mr. Nelson spoke most interestingly and well on the difficult subject, "Post War Conditions," which is being considered around the globe just now. He was followed by a humorous sketch, with illustrations, of woman and the bicycle in the 1890's, given by Mrs. Clara Squires.

The club is active altho meeting only once a month at present. Three new names were voted upon at this meeting. Several guests were present.

Non-Partisan News Letter

Unless Harry F. Kelly breaks another precedent in Michigan history, he can look forward to two years of public service as Governor and no more.

The Republican secretary of state, victor in the GOP landslide of November 3, upset one historical habit of voters in not changing their governor during a war. War Governors Austin Blair, Hazen Pingree and Albert E. Sleeper were all returned to office by a public which evidently cherished the old admonition against "swapping horses in mid-stream."

However, the custom didn't save the genial, capable Murray D. VanWagoner, smiling "Pat" to thousands of his friends, from being buried beneath a 75,000 Kelly majority. The "war governor" will be retired in favor of an opposition candidate whose record in the World War was most distinguished, having been awarded the French Croix deGuerre for valor.

Another fact still remains: For seven successive elections a majority of the voters of Michigan have switched allegiance. Every other year an opposition candidate has ousted the incumbent governor — seven times straight

Between 1892 and 1912 the Wolverine state was tagged by politicians as "Safely" Republican.

Republican Governor Blair had put the state well into the Republican column during the Civil War. The memory of Lincoln became a rallying point in succeeding campaigns, and the state remained GOP for twelve elections until the turn of the nineties. Edwin B. Winans, Democrat, won in 1890 by only 11,500 plurality. The state then remained Republican until 1914 when Woodbridge N. Ferris defeated the field to win by a plurality of 35,000.

Michigan then returned to its Republican voting habit until the Roosevelt New Deal swept across the nation like a tidal-wage in 1932 and William A. Comstock, a conservative Democrat, became governor

Since advent of the New Deal which hastened the development of social legislation at Washington such as unemployment compensation and old age pensions, the state has been Republican for two years and then Democratic for the next two.

Wilber M Brucker was the first victim of the Democratic upset in 1932. Every governor from that day on has held office for two years — and no more!

Here is the procession, just to refreshen your memory:

1930 — Wilber M. Brucker, Republican

1932 — William A. Comstock, Democrat.

1934 — Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican.

1936 — Frank Murphy, Democrat.

1938 — Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican.

1940 — Murray D. VanWagoner, Democrat.

1942 — Harry F. Kelly, Republican.

Why have the voters switched favors so consistently, as the above record bears out?

From a state considered in the past to be Republican, Michigan has become fighting ground for both parties every other year with better than even chances of victory for the opposition.

These have been times of depression — ups and downs in employment. They have been years of labor unrest — strikes, sitdowns, organization ferment. Farm prices have been low.

Michigan, once an agricultural state, is now heavily industrial. Security through governmental action has been replacing security through individual initiative More and more centralized control at Lansing and Washington has been the trend. More bureaus, more employees and higher payrolls have followed each administration, almost regardless of party, during these years of economic and social turmoil.

Why did the voters swing, the pendulum once again in Michigan? Your guess is just as good as ours Last March we appraised the trend as follows:

"If the fall elections were to be held today, many Michigan officeholders would be buried in a landslide protest. Right or wrong, the man on the street is pretty mad today. He is mad about the way the war is going. He is mad about labor's insistence of double pay for Sunday work, while the government asks him to buy bonds cheerfully and to pay more taxes. He is mad about a 40-hour week, while his son serves in the army for $21 a month."

It was our observation eight months ago that "voters usually do the irrational thing when they are in a mood to kick someone in the pants — whether the fault lies at Washington or at home."

Again in early August we sized up public opinion as follows: "The key to the 1942 primary and election will be the war. If the war is going badly as it is today, watch out! If the tide turns, voters will be more cheerful, less in a mood to kick someone in the pants. . . . Generally speaking, 1942 is already tagged an emotional year'."

We have an affectionate regard and respect for both Murray D. VanWagoner and Harry F. Kelly.

But we still believe the vote in November was influenced chiefly by upset emotions of many Americans who don't like the way the war is going.

Looking for someone to kick in the pants, they found Governor VanWagoner within ballot-box reach.

Will the voters again swing over to an opposition candidate in 1944? Based upon contemporary history, the chances are seven to one that they will

We offer one final observation. Harry F. Kelly upset one precedent in 1942. He may do it again in 1944.

Home Front

The raw materials front of the United Nations — a front that, like fighting front, stretches around the world — is being strengthened by cooperative planning. This fact was brought home to Michigan in bold relief this week. Instead of sending Russia more manufactured rubber tires made to Russian dimensions, this nation is sending a tire manufacturing plant, bought by the government under lend-lease for Russia from the Ford Motor Co. The tire plant, prior to the war, was an important unit of Henry Ford's vast Rouge plant at Dearborn.

To help keep Americans warm this winter the War Production Board has ordered an additional 6,000,000 pounds of wool made available for manufacturing sweaters, shawls, knitted underwear, etc. This wool is over and above the yarn currently going into knitted goods.

Take good care of your vacuum cleaner, Mrs. Michigan, or expect to be back to the old days of broom sweeping. Present stocks of new vacuum cleaners have been frozen for the armed services and may not be released to civilians unless stocks are found later to be sufficient

A long-range plan for controlling the flow of critical materials into war production — the Controlled Materials Plan — has just been put into effect by WPB. At the same time, further curtailment in use of critical metals for any but war uses becomes effective. Use of stainless steel in more than 75 products, from coffee pots to farm machinery, has been prohibited. Idle and excess stocks of stainless steel will be redistributed for war use.

To save metals and rubber, typewriter manufacture stopped at the end of October. But the government needs 600,000 typewriters chiefly for the use of the Army and Navy — contracts must be typed and so must military orders and documents. The government wants to buy standard-size machines made since January 1, 1935. Patriotic citizens and firms who wish to dispose of machines they can spare may sell them through authorized local typewriter dealers.

Migratory farm workers who use trucks traveling from job to job and who are far from home are urged to consult the nearest Office of Defense Transportation district headquarters on how to apply for Certificates of War Necessity for their vehicles. ODT is racing against time to get these certificates in the mail for the nation's more than 5,000,000 commercial motor vehicles before Nov. 15. Without a Certificate of War Necessity a commercial motor vehicle operator will not be able to buy gasoline, tires and spare parts.

Young America — the diaper set — is not due for immediate introduction to war imposed shortages. At least, there will be enough three-cornered panties to go around, even with the increasing national birth rate.

Are you cooking with gas? Seriously, Mrs. Michigan, conservation of gas is one way you can help the war effort. Cutting down on gas in home heating and cooking does two things — it makes more available for war industries and, of course, it lowers your bill.

DOTS and DASHES: Milk cans and all wire fencing used on farms will be rationed through the Department of Agriculture. . . . use of new burlap bags will be restricted to sacking up barley, beans and peas, dairy products, potatoes, rice, rock salt, feeds and meals for animal consumption, dried fruits, nuts, seeds, raw sugar, wheat, wool, wool products and a few other items.

Motorists seeking more mileage than the basic ration under mileage rationing will have to furnish specific, detailed information about their driving requirements on a supplemental form supplied by OPA . . . incidentally, OPA has called upon local war price and rationing boards to appoint competent tire men in their communities as inspectors so that the plan for periodic tire inspection can be handled with a minimum of inconvenience to vehicle operators.

Increasing pressure on price ceilings over woodpulp, news print and other paper products has been halted by OPA in an action freezing current prices on pulpwood cut in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. . . meat slaughtered on farms for home use and that which families purchase in quantities for storage in freezer lockers should be counted in the 2½-pound weekly sharing allowance.

Steps to assure that a particular type of rubber footwear best suited to needs of miners will be rationed only to persons in that occupation have been taken by OPA . . . this agency also has authorized increases of about 20 per cent in cigar prices.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barbed wire used by Uncle Sam's fighting forces is vastly different from that used on American farms. Army and Marine barbed wire is much heavier and the barbs, about three inches in length, are more vicious than ordinary barbed wire.

The Marine Corps pays fifty cents for each twelve yards, or 36 feet of this specially manufactured barbed wire. The Army and Marine Corps needs thousands upon thousands of feet for defensive warfare. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will insure sufficient quantity for their needs. Invest at least ten percent of your wages in War Bonds every pay day.

6,000,000 Women Enrolled in War Savings Payroll Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women At War Week, opening Nov. 22, during which women will seek to sell the greatest single week's volume of War Bonds and Stamps will serve to put the spotlight on the mighty contribution women generally are making toward financing the war.

Six million women are on War Savings payroll plans. Their monthly deductions total $70,000,000.

The customers of 300,000 newspaper boys who have sold more than $50,000,000 in War Bonds and Stamps are mostly women.

Volunteer saleswomen run nearly all the Bond booths in theatres from Maine to California. They also are sparking the War Bond sales in retail stores.

Ralph G. Engelsman, Associate Field Director of the payroll savings section of the War Savings Staff, readily admits that without the support of women the phenomenal record of payroll savings enrollments would not have been achieved. Payroll savings plans are now in operation in 148,000 businesses and factories. Employees of twenty-five thousand of these firms are converting at least 10 percent of gross payrolls into War Bonds every payday.

Associate Field Director Engelsman says that women have contributed directly and indirectly toward this record. When a man devoted 10 or more percent of his pay envelope to War bonds, the woman at home has had a powerful voice in the decision. Her planning, her economies and her cheerfulness play their part in the success of payroll savings.

The Treasury Department is counting upon this woman influence in its current campaign to "top that 10 percent by New Year's." By the first of the year the Treasury hopes to enroll at least 3,000,000 women workers in a payroll savings plan and 5,000,000 more men with total deductions for War Bonds over the 10 percent mark.

Record War Bond Sales Is Goal Of Women At War Week Nov. 22

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's women in the cities and on the farms —in war factories and in their homes—are determined to make Women At War Week the greatest War Bond selling effort since Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sounded the keynote for the Treasury Department's Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28, with an appeal to women to save on "little things" to provide money for War Bonds.

"We women want to work hard, we want to be a part of this strenuous period because unless we are, we will not be able to face the men when they return and claim our share of the future responsibility for building a peaceful world," the First Lady declared.

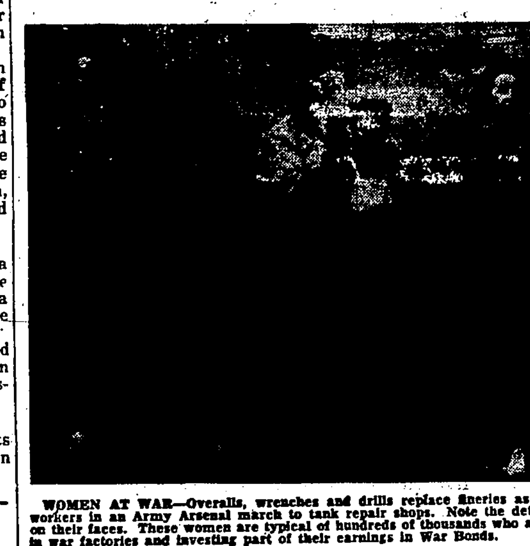
During Women At War Week volunteer War Bond saleswomen will wear an armband similar to the one being attached to the sleeve of Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., by Miss Harriet Elliott.

The overall direction of Women At War Week rests with the Women's Section of the War Savings Staff under the leadership of Miss Harriet Elliott, Associate Field Director, and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Chief of the Special Activities Unit.

From coast to coast women in every community have made plans for torchlight parades, fashion shows, teas, rallies, store window displays, Stamp and Bond booths, pageants, civic sings, balls and mardi gras. In each locality administration of the one week drive rests with the local War Savings Committee which has worked out activities adapted to their areas.

Mrs. Morgenthau, in a special message for Women At War Week, declared that the spirit of America's pioneer women lives today more strongly than ever.

"The average American woman began to rise to new heights on Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941," Mrs. Morgenthau said. "This winter the average American woman will be spending less in order to save more to invest in War Bonds and Stamps. She will not, please God, ever have to fire a gun or fly a bomber. But she will, please God, always do everything she can to help buy anything—and the best of everything—that fires or flies or floats in this terrible war."



WOMEN AT WAR—Overalls, wrenches and drills replace fineries as these war workers in an Army Arsenal march to tank repair shops. Note the determination on their faces. These women are typical of hundreds of thousands who are working in war factories and investing part of their earnings in War Bonds.

Mrs. Roosevelt (left) says women help men at front by buying War Bonds. At right is the lapel tag which volunteers will wear during Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28.

LEONARD E. MARSHALL

To the Voters of the 15th Senatorial District —

I am deeply grateful and truly humbled by the fact of my election as your state senator by such a significant majority, exceeded in only two other contests ('28 and '40), since the district was created by Act No. 291 of the 1925 legislature.

Without regard to party or politics — if we lose the war we lose both—I believe we should put first things first and have no other business ahead of winning the war. To this end I pledge my every energy and whatever capacity and character I may possess.

I shall strive at all times to reflect the quality, dignity and high type citizenship of this splendid section of our great Commonwealth—Shiawassee, Clinton and Eaton counties.

Many serious political and social questions are in the immediate offing and I shall welcome your suggestions and opinions on any and all problems relating to anticipated legislation or on matters having to do with this honorable office.

Very Respectfully

WITHOUT ALL THIS PROTECTION YOU MAY LOSE YOUR WAR-TIME TRANSPORTATION!

Change to Winter-Grade Lubricants. Your car requires different grades of lubricants during the winter months. We have them all!

Give Engine Special Winter Tune-Up. A tune-up is particularly important now, for easy starting, and to avoid waste of gasoline.

Install Anti-Freeze. Your whole cooling system should be checked and put in order for the winter when you install anti-freeze.

Check Battery and Electrical System. Fewer miles of driving this winter make it important that the entire electrical system is in tip-top shape, to avoid a run-down battery.

Check Heater, De-Froster and Windshield Wiper. They may need cleaning and lubricating to fit them for the winter job ahead.

Adjust Brakes. Brakes should be equalized to reduce danger of skids on icy pavements—and adjusted to permit maximum brake lining life and tire mileage in all seasons.

Apply Protective Coating over Chromium and Paint. Snow and frost and winter road chemicals are tough on the finish of your car. Get our "appearance protection" now!

Half G.M.'s War Effort for Flying Forces

WITH WARFARE climbing into the air, General Motors now has more than half its vast wartime manufacturing activity devoted to aviation, and this work will increase rapidly. More and more of G.M.'s energies and facilities are going into the manufacture of products for the sky fleets of the United Nations—products that range from tiny instrument parts, through liquid-cooled and air-cooled engines, to completed airplanes.

Top right: Mass production of powerful bomber engines in plants of the Buick and Chevrolet divisions is breaking records under steady acceleration of output. This is the final Buick "cleanup" line after test, tear-down and reassembly, where the engines are readied for crating and shipment to a bomber plant.

Above: Parts for these bomber nacelles are made at several Fisher Body plants. They are pictured in assembly at the Fisher Aircraft plant.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY A FULL JUNK YARD!

Don't listen to people who say—"They can't need scrap very badly. Look at that junk yard, or the auto graveyards—they've got plenty of scrap. And remember the last time we had a drive the stuff sat around for weeks." Tell such people these true facts . . .

Of course the junk yards are full. They are "factories" that turn out finished scrap—sorted, broken up, and bundled . . . ready for the mills of America. The scrap has to go through these yards, and it keeps going through fast!

The auto graveyards too, are busy. They specialize in used car parts, but produce plenty of scrap as well. In June alone, these yards moved 450,000 tons—for they are required to junk within 60 days as many cars as they buy.

As for Salvage Depots—communities all over the country are staging drives. All this scrap can't be taken away at once. The junkies can't handle it and the mills can't store it. But every pound is needed and will be used. We've got to pile it up ready for instant use at any time.

The day when all junk yards are empty, when the auto graveyards are cleaned out, when all the local scrap stockpiles are gone—that is the day to dread. It is a day to avoid at all costs.

So remember—steel is needed to fight the war, and millions of lives depend on it. This steel is made of 50% scrap—and the mills have not enough scrap to last even 30 days longer. Don't fail to do your part in this emergency.

Get your scrap ready for the drive that starts Monday!

What About These?

Have all the pleasure you can out of them. Some we know and some we do not know and don't believe you know. Some are yet alive and some are dead, and others have been dead for years. Do you know them?

Youthful Fashions Stress Gay Color

Patchwork Used Even by Milliners.

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

The dresses, suits, coats and costume ensembles that youth is wearing this fall teem with radiant color and styling interest.

Perhaps the "newsiest" items in coats are the new nylon fleeces, teddybear cloths and camel fleeces. Their bright quilted linings are the pride of the young girls wearing them, but no more so than the fact that most of them are bordered up and down the front with wool fabric in as gay hues as the fashion spectrum offers.

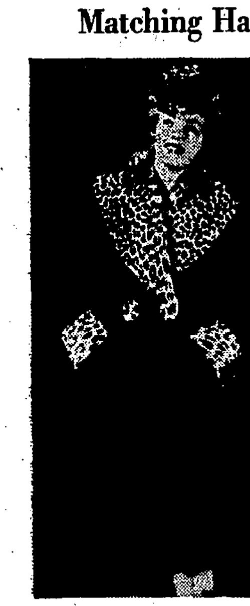
For the most part these shaggy coats are in white or natural colors, and the contrast of vivid wool borders highlighted with novelty button fastenings is thrilling. Red, kelly green, purple, Ming orange, fuchsia and marine or royal blue are the outstanding color choices for the wool borderings. Fur coats, too, are enlivened with vivid wool borderings. There's much rivalry going on between the "shaggies" and corduroys which are marvelously styled with yokes and pockets. The reefer fur-trimmed wool coat is also a winner, and the gorgeous plaids are simply stunning.

Of course, a long topcoat means either a suit or a dress to wear under it. It is a fascinating story the new wool, corduroy, jersey and velveteen dresses have to tell. Some of the outstanding fashion highlights are, first, the way the new wools, velveteens and jerseys are taking on glitter accents. It may be only a pocket. Or, if it is one of the new "jewelry" dresses, the neckline will be jewel-embroidered to simulate a necklace or a bib, collar. Very smart, too, is the long sleeve that has a bracelet embroidered at the wrist.

The use of contrast color done in inserted sections and borderings or in contrast sleeves is more in favor than ever. Then there are the new patchwork effects. Entire bodice tops are sometimes made of squares of wool fabric in multicolors pieced together like quilt blocks. Milliners are borrowing the idea and making fascinating berets in this manner. In "date" and "furlough" dresses the flattering new note is the use of yokes made either of pastel sheers exquisitely bead-embroidered or of the material of the dress in a bold color contrast, or worked out in velvet in a bright shade or in black on black.

The ideal costume is the suit that has a matching top coat but it has been ruled that the coat and suit must be bought separately and not as an ensemble as heretofore.

Matching Hat



It would be difficult to conceive of anything in the way of a fall coat and hat ensemble that could eclipse this twosome in smartness spiced with the spirit of youth. The all-wool coat in navy blue is luxuriously trimmed with wide revers and deep cuffs of leopard fur. The coat has two big buttons covered with the fur, has a softly fitted top and two slit pockets. Note the little topper to match. What a sensation this outfit will be creating! This season more than ever the college girl wants gay and youthful spotted furs and fashion is granting her wish, be assured.

Style Notes

It's "bows-on-everything" this fall.

Winter cottons will play an important role.

New millinery trends stress high cossack turbans.

Smart gloves go to six and eight-button lengths.

Rugged shoes are in demand by women in defense work.

Feathers give drama, color and height to fall hats.

Jersey dresses with jewel embroidery look definitely new.

White and natural are popular colors for the new shaggy coats.

Bright velveteen is a fashion-first choice for "furlough" and "date" dresses.

Mr. Ralph Blackmore,
Eaton Rapids

I took one bottle of Siatico, It relieved me of my aches and pains, and especially arthritis in my knee. I was hardly able to walk and after taking Siatico it was very much relieved.

Signed:
Mrs. Julia Hamlin,
Onondaga, Michigan

August 21, 1942

Last May it was difficult for me to walk without assistance. Knee was swollen. Severe pain in right side, arms very lame. Have taken Siatico (6 bottles); now can walk and sleep without pain. It is hard to find words to express the good opinion I have of Siatico, and the way it helped me. My desire is that it will help others.—Nettie Johnson, RFD 1. Eaton Rapids

OUT OF LINE

It was kit inspection, and the orderly inspector approached Private Jones with the usual questions.

"Three shirts, Jones?"

"Yes, sir. One on, one in the wash, and one in the box."

"Two pairs of boots?"

"Yes, sir. One pair on and the other in the box."

"Two pairs of socks?"

"Yes, sir. One on and one in the box."

"Good. Now where is the box?"

"Don't know, sir. I've lost it."

It Flies, Lady

The pilot had taken great pains to explain all about his machine to the pretty young visitor at the airport—its mechanical features, purpose of this and that, what pilots did to meet actual flying conditions, and so on. He looked at the girl and smiled: "Now you understand, don't you?"

"All but one thing," replied the girl.

"And what is that?"

"What makes the thing stay up?"

RETIRED

"Do you believe in old-age pensions?"

"Yes, I think this turkey is entitled to one."

Two cyclists pulled up for the night at a hotel.

"Well, I think" said the host, "that you'll have a comfortable night. It's a feather bed."

At two o'clock in the morning one of the cyclists roused his companion.

"Change places with me, Dick," he groaned; "it's my turn to lie on the feather."

Identified

"Is Mr. Smith at home?" inquired the stranger.

"Which one, sir?" asked the maid. "There are two brothers living here."

For a moment the caller seemed at a loss for a description; then he had an idea.

"The one who has a sister living in Milwaukee," he explained.

Critical

The young married couple were "having a few words."

"You just hang about," snapped the lady, "smoking and smoking. You never see me holding a cigarette in my mouth."

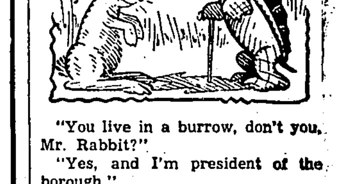
"You couldn't," he seized the chance to retort; "your mouth is never shut."

At Her Word

She—You can take me to the dance on the pier tonight if you like, unless (coyly) you meet somebody more attractive in the meantime.

He—I say, that's jolly sporting of you. We'll leave it like that, then, shall we?

BIG SHOT



"You live in a burrow, don't you, Mr. Rabbit?"

"Yes, and I'm president of the borough."

Over and Over

Mother—What? A twenty-page letter from that soldier friend of yours? What does he say?

Daughter—He says he still loves me.

Do, Re, Mi

There was a young man named Tweedle,
Who wouldn't accept his degree;
He said: "It's enough to be Tweedle,
Without being Tweedle D.D."

A Big Help

Bank Cashier—You will have to be identified, madam, before I can cash this check.

She—My friend here will identify me.

Cashier—But I don't know her.

She—Oh, well, I'll introduce you.

Strong Man

"I know a man who can grab Joe Louis right under the chin, stretch him out, and make him like it."

"Aw, come off! Who is it?"

"His barber."
